Course Description

For the past 32 years the annual seminar “Frontiers of Rheumatology” has honored the memory of Carl M. Pearson MD, the founding chief of Rheumatology at UCLA, by gathering a distinguished faculty for 3 days of interactions, presentations and educational discussions with participants, of current topics, recent advances and important progress for physicians and other providers of care to patients with autoimmune and musculoskeletal conditions. The course has been well-reviewed by participants and by visiting faculty who enjoy the relaxed atmosphere, challenging queries from participants and many opportunities for interactions. Many have repeatedly returned to subsequent seminars. Participant’s opinions about the quality of each presentation and of the overall course each year, as well as their suggestions for future topics, speakers and venues, form a core of information to develop each year’s program. The basic purpose of the seminars is to maintain and improve the skills of the participants and to improve the care and outcomes of their patients.

Target Audience

This program is intended to provide rheumatologists, interested physicians, health care professionals, and rheumatology fellows with the most current information and insights on treatment of rheumatic disease. Interaction between participants and faculty members is emphasized.

Learning Objectives

It is the objective of this meeting to provide an update of current knowledge in rheumatology focusing on the practical clinical perspective. In addition to lectures, extensive question and answer periods, panel discussions, small group of clinical presentations, hands-on workshops and casual exchanges will provide many opportunities for faculty and participants to interact and discuss clinically important topics.

Upon completion of this program, participants should be able to:

- Understand the new and exciting interactions between the GI microbiome, the immune system and rheumatic disease
- Learn about latest approaches to Sjogren’s Syndrome
- Formulate management approaches for patients with difficult to treat RA including differentiating among new treatments and incorporating recent research findings
- Learn the fundamentals and also advanced aspects of joint ultrasound examination
- Learn about highlights from the 2013 Rheumatology meetings, including treatments in RA, Pulmonary disease, gout and Psoriatic Arthritis
- Learn how to monitor and treat vasculitis, especially how to avoid disease flares while tapering drugs
- Learn about the imaging of the rheumatic diseases
- Recognize the increasingly sophisticated and complex mechanisms behind perception of pain and how to treat it
- Understand the new guidelines in SLE and their application to clinical care and treatment of SLE

GENERAL INFORMATION

Meeting Location

Marina del Rey Marriott
4100 Admiralty Way
Marina del Rey, CA 90292
(310) 301-3000

The Marina del Rey Marriott is located three blocks from the beach in the heart of Marina del Rey, across from the world's largest man-made harbor. It is six miles from LAX airport, with access to all area freeways and major surface routes. Within walking distance of the hotel are a variety of restaurants, clubs, and shops as well as biking paths, jogging trails and the Marina Beach. Close to Marina del Rey are art galleries, popular restaurants, architectural showpieces, and the distinctive cultural scene of Santa Monica and Venice Beach. Shopping in Beverly Hills and Century City is also close by. The Los Angeles area offers a variety of vacation entertainment for both adults and children. Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm, Magic Mountain and Universal Studios are just a sample of attractions that help to make a visit to Southern California a memorable experience.

Accommodations

A block of rooms has been reserved at the Marina del Rey Marriott for seminar participants at a special conference rate starting at $189.00 per night for single/double occupancy. Confirmation of reservations received after Thursday, March 6, 2014 is subject to availability.

Disclosure Statement

The FDA has issued a concept paper which classifies commercial support of scientific and educational programs as promotional unless it can be affirmed that the program is "truly independent" and free of commercial influence. In addition to independence, the FDA requires that non-promotional, commercially supported education be objective, balanced, and scientifically rigorous. The policy further states that all potential conflicts of interest of the CME staff and faculty be fully disclosed to the program's participants. In addition, Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education policy now mandates that the provider adequately manage all identified potential conflicts of interest prior to the program. UCLA fully endorses the letter and spirit of these concepts.
