UCSF Vascular Symposium 2014

Hotel Nikko
San Francisco, CA

In 2014 the challenges facing vascular specialists have never been greater. To assist in facing these challenges, the UCSF Vascular Symposium offers an overview on the impending health policy changes with initiation of the Affordable Care Act as well expert commentary a wide spectrum of vascular pathologies. This year the Symposium will feature an update on changes planned in outcome reporting, off-label device use and the impact of ACO's. There will be reviews on the treatment of patients with peripheral occlusive lesions and both current treatment and future directions of therapy for those with aneurysms of the abdominal and thoracic aorta. Presentations will be given regarding cerebrovascular disease management, venous disorders and on dilemmas presented by patients requiring hemodialysis access. Dr. Julie Freischlag, this year's President of the Society for Vascular Surgery, will give the annual Binkley Lecture.

Challenging cases will be presented after each session. The meeting will conclude with a Mini-Symposium on limb preservation and the diabetic foot presented in coordination with our podiatry colleagues. An electronic course syllabus will be distributed to all participants prior to the start of the meeting.

ELECTRONIC SYLLABUS

There will not be a printed syllabus for this course.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES The objective of the 2014 UCSF Vascular Symposium is to address knowledge gaps in health policy issues and practice gaps in diseases affecting both the arterial and venous vasculature.

Our focus will be on providing information to provide strategies:

- To improve the outcome of interventions to revascularize patients with lower extremity occlusive disease;
- To achieve optimal performance of arteriovenous fistulae and maximize their patency;
- To treat thoracic aortic aneurysms and acute thoracic dissections;
- To evaluate the indications and options for the treatment of critical stenosis of the carotid bifurcation;
- To heal ulcers in the face of advanced venous disease of the lower extremities;
- To develop a thorough treatment plan for a diabetic patient to preserve limb viability and utility.

ACCREDITATION

The University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine (UCSF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 18.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This CME activity meets the requirements under California Assembly Bill 1195, continuing education and cultural and linguistic competency.

Nursing

For the purpose of recertification, the American Nurses Credentialing Center accepts AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ issued by organizations accredited by the ACCME.

Physician Assistants

AAPA accepts category 1 credit from AOACCME, Prescribed credit from AAFP, and AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ from organizations accredited by the ACCME.
