ASH 2014

Letter from the President and Program Committee Chair

Dear Colleague,

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the American Society of Hypertension, Inc. (ASH), we are pleased to welcome you and cordially invite you to join us at the ASH Twenty-Ninth Annual Scientific Meeting and Exposition. The meeting will be held at the New York Hilton, May 16 – 20, 2014.

The 2014 Annual Scientific meeting topics are organized around two (2) concurrent themes: Clinical Science and Clinical Practice.

The Scientific Sessions feature several innovative components designed to enhance the translation of basic and applied research into effective hypertension prevention and treatment strategies.

- Hypertension Highlights 2014 – Saturday, May 17, 2014

Hypertension Highlights is a full-day program dedicated to educating clinicians and scientists about some of the most interesting, controversial and evolving topics in the field. The program will include state-of-the-art presentations on Cholesterol Disorders and Management, Cardiovascular Impact of Type 2 Diabetes and Vasoactive Drug Development. It is an ideal update for Hypertension Specialists and those wishing to become specialists in the field.

- Plenary Session I – Sunday, May 18, 2014

The Keynote speaker for the opening session will be Murray D. Esler, MBBS, PhD, Associate Director, Cardiovascular Neurosciences Division, Baker IDI Heart and Diabetes Institute, Melbourne, Australia. Dr. Esler will speak on "Sympathetic Nervous System and Hypertension." Following Dr. Esler's lecture will be Jan A. Staessen, MD, PhD, Professor of Medicine, Head, Studies Coordinating Centre, Research Unit Hypertension and Cardiovascular Epidemiology, KU Leuven Department of Cardiovascular Sciences, Leuven, Belgium presenting a lecture on "Current Evidence and Perspectives on Renal Denervation in Hypertension and Related Disorders." Roxana Mehran, MD, Professor of Medicine and Health Policy, Director of Interventional Cardiovascular Research and Clinical Trials at the Zena and Michael A. Weiner Cardiovascular Institute at Mount Sinai School of Medicine, New York, New York, will then present a lecture entitled "Evaluation of Clinical Outcomes Following Peripheral Arterial Interventions: What is Needed for Renal Denervation Studies Long-term?" Ravij Agarwal, MD, FASH, Professor of Medicine, Division of Nephrology, Indiana University School of Medicine, Indianapolis, Indiana will address the topic of "Resistant Hypertension, Salt, and Successful Drug Therapy."

- Plenary Session II – Monday, May 19, 2014

The ASH Distinguished Scientist Award, Young Scholar Award and Marvin Moser Clinical Hypertension Award will be presented in Plenary Session II – the ASH Awards Session.

- Hypertension for the Primary Care Clinician – Friday, May 16 and Saturday May 17, 2014

This program will address commonplace questions that face clinicians in day-to-day care of hypertension including Blood Pressure Measurement, Special Populations and Resistant Hypertension.

- Young Investigator-in-Training Abstract Competition – Sunday, May 18, 2014

Trainees submitting the highest ranking abstracts to the meeting will present their work orally in a special session and compete for cash prizes. This highlighted session is consistent with ASH's goal to foster and facilitate the training of young and new investigators in hypertension.

- Debates – Monday, May 19, 2014

This year there are several debates on controversial topics of relevance to Hypertension Specialists.

- Joint Society Sessions

Educational sessions resulting from the partnership with other societies, both national and international (including the AHA, ACC, ASN, ESH, PCNA and ISHIB [see below]), focused on the topic of hypertension and cardiovascular disease will enhance and broaden the scope of the ASH 2014 Meeting.

- Joint Meetings with ISHIB

Once again this year, ASH and the International Society on Hypertension in Blacks (ISHIB) will convene our annual conferences with the ISHIB meeting taking place immediately prior to the ASH 2014 Annual Scientific Meeting. The collaboration will benefit both societies in supporting our similar goals of improving the treatment of hypertension and advancing knowledge related to the disease; affording sponsors and attendees the convenience of taking in two meetings while only arranging travel to a single location.

- Sponsored Satellite Symposia and Exhibits

The Society will also sponsor industry-supported Satellite Symposia which will introduce novel approaches to antihypertensive and device therapies. The ASH Hypertension Resource Pavilion will host many informative scientific, technical, periodical and book exhibits designed to support you in your mission of providing the latest in care for your hypertensive patients.

We look forward to seeing you in New York.

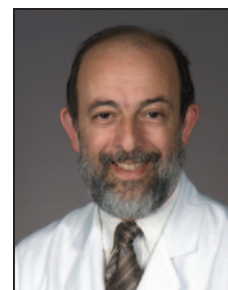

Sincerely,

2014 ANNUAL SCIENTIFIC MEETING AND EXPOSITION

ASH Hypertension Community Outreach 2013

The American Society of Hypertension (ASH), the leading voice for high blood pressure in the U.S., has committed to an innovative public health approach. It comprehensively screens and educates individuals who are at high risk for hypertension. During the recent 2013 Annual Scientific Meeting & Exposition in San Francisco, California, ASH completed its sixth citywide Hypertension Community Outreach Program to educate the public hypertension by intervention and education at the community level. Overall, the ASH outreach effort builds on previous and ongoing public health programs.

On Saturday, May 18, 2013, the American Society of Hypertension, Inc. (ASH), in collaboration with the International Society on Hypertension in Blacks (ISHIB), held a health screening festival in San Francisco, California. In five hours, 155 people were registered and screened for blood pressure, glucose, cholesterol, and BMI. Eight physicians from ASH and ISHIB, Keith C. Ferdinand, MD, Chair, ASH Hypertension Community Outreach Committee, Steven Yarows, MD, Co-Chair, ASH Hypertension Community Outreach Committee, Vieta Bland, MD, Cornelius flowers, MD, Joseph Izzo, Jr., MD, Suzanne Nicholas, MD, David Kountz, MD, Priscilla Johnson, PhD and Elijah Saunders, MD, were available to counsel privately with each patient about his or her testing results and overall health.

The ASH Outreach Initiative, for over six years, has included screening and education at the community level as well as directly educating physicians, nurse practitioners, and other front-line providers where they practiced. Grand Rounds were held at Kaiser Permanente San Francisco and Kaiser Permanente Oakland.

Many thanks to Kaiser Permanente for providing information to the public about nutrition, smoking cessation, exercise, diabetes weight, stress, heart disease, colds and flu and allergies. A special thank you to Takeda Pharmaceuticals, U.S.A., Inc., and Omron Healthcare, Inc. for their generous support of the ASH Hypertension Community Outreach program.

In September 2013, ASH once again anchored the Health and Wellness Village at the 7th Annual WCBS/ Yankees Radio Network FanFest. The Health and Wellness Village is dedicated to promoting physical fitness and the well-being of all baseball fans. Joining ASH were American Kidney Fund, Association of Black Cardiologists, American Heart Association, Cookin' Lite – Cookin' Easy, DoSomething.org, International Society on Hypertension in Blacks, Mount Sinai Medical Center, Northeast Lipid Association, Sanford Brown Institute, and Urban Yoga Foundation.

Accomplishments

- We produced four Hypertension Community Outreach site videos, four patient education videos, one public service announcement and one patient information pamphlet, available both in English and Spanish.
- We provided Grand Rounds for twelve Hospitals and visited twenty clinics for in-service training.
- We participated in the National Campaign Launch of “Pair-Up” with the American Kidney Fund.

In 2011, the Hypertension Community Outreach Program reached new boundaries and for the first time, extended past the US borders to the Island of Montserrat—for “Blood Pressure without Borders”.

Visit the blog, www.ashoutreach.blogspot.com to read all about the trip. The last entry describes the “Staggering Initial findings.”

Visit the ASH website www.ash-us.org – Patients menu – to read about the Patient Videos ASH created in 2011.
