PENNSTATE HERSEY
 College of Medicine

A continuing education service of Penn State College of Medicine

PURPOSE

This conference is designed to provide strategies that health-care professionals can use in caring for the acute needs of bariatric patients.

AUDIENCE

Physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and nurses in the emergency and critical care setting will benefit most from attendance. Other health-care professionals are welcome.

ACCESS

Penn State encourages persons with disabilities to participate in its programs and activities. If you anticipate needing any type of special accommodation or have questions about the physical access provided, please contact Continuing Education at least one week in advance of your participation or visit.

It is our policy to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all of our sponsored educational programs. Faculty and course directors have disclosed relevant financial relationships awith commercial companies, and Penn State has a process in place to resolve any conflict of interest. Complete faculty disclosure will be provided to program participants at the beginning of the activity.

HERSHEY ATTRACTIONS

Hershey is conveniently located in central Pennsylvania, just 90 minutes from Baltimore and Philadelphia, two hours from Washington, DC, and three hours from New York City. Come and visit the town that has been named, “the sweetest place on earth.” For more information, go to: hersheypa.com.

This publication is available in alternative media on request.

The Pennsylvania State University is committed to the policy that all persons shall have equal access to programs, facilities, admission, and employment without regard to personal characteristics not related to ability, performance, or qualifications as determined by University policy or by state or federal authorities. It is the policy of the University to maintain an academic and work environment free of discrimination, including harassment. The Pennsylvania State University prohibits discrimination and harassment against any person because of age, ancestry, color, disability or handicap, genetic information, national origin, race, religious creed, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status and retaliation due to the reporting of discrimination or harassment.
