Keynote Presentation:

Eugene Braunwald, M.D., Harvard Medical School

CVI is honored to host Dr. Eugene Braunwald who will deliver the Inaugural Kenneth Kershbaum, M.D. Memorial Lecture, "The War on Heart Failure," at CVI's 3rd Annual Interventional Cardiovascular Medicine CME program.

Dr. Braunwald's contributions to cardiology in the latter half of the 20th century are unparalleled. The results of his innovative research have helped millions who struggle with heart disease.

Dr. Braunwald will be joined by an impressive faculty of internationally recognized thought leaders including Drs. David Holmes, John Carroll, Barry Katzen and James Goldstein.

Topics include several patient case demonstrations (Complex PCI, ASD Repair and Percutaneous AAA Repair); STEMI in 2014, Complicated Patient Scenarios in Interventional Pharmacology, Preventing MI by Cath Lab techniques, Avoiding Coronary and Peripheral Complications, Role of the Cardiologist in Advancing Cardiovascular Care, Neurologist and Interventionalist Perspective on PFO Closure, Transcatheter Valve Therapy Update and Advanced Catheter Techniques for Peripheral Vascular Intervention.
