

Targeted Treatments for Cancers of the Digestive System

Tuesday 16 December 2014

Education Centre (Dept 17), The Christie, Manchester, M20 4BX

Dr Elaine Vickers

Science Communicated

Course Description

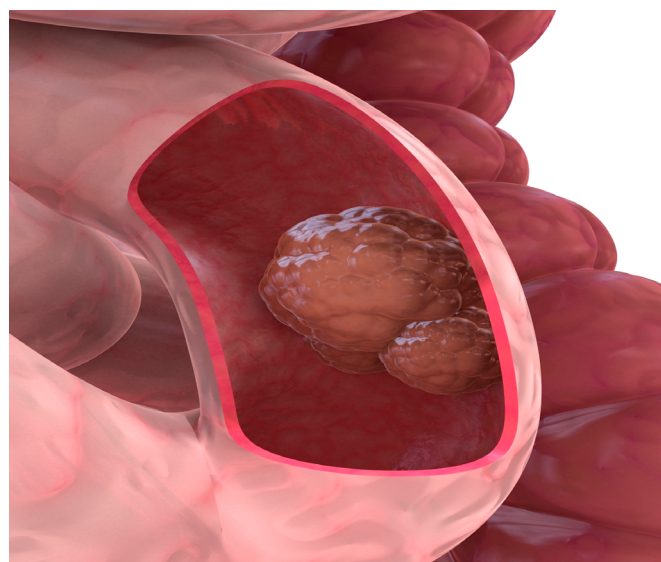

This course provides a description of the faulty genes and proteins that drive colorectal, pancreatic, oesophageal, gastric and primary liver cancer. It also provides an overview of targeted treatment approaches for these diseases. The relevant science behind each treatment is explained for a non-scientific, non-specialist audience. The course includes a detailed description of the science behind the FOCUS-4 trial, including the reason for treatment combinations and patient selection

Level: Intermediate/Advanced

Intermediate/advanced (Designed for research nurses, junior doctors and other staff working on cancer trials for cancers of the digestive system; requires some prior understanding of cancer biology)

Topics Include

- A summary of our current understanding of the molecular defects that underly oesophageal, gastric, colon, rectal, pancreatic and liver cancer
- The main pathways/proteins being targeted with new cancer treatments
- The current state of play of clinical trials in each cancer type
- Biomarkers in use and under development to select patients for trials and treatments for patients
- What are we aiming for? The future landscape of targeted treatments for these cancers
- Work sheets and quizzes will be used to reinforce & test knowledge

Getting to The Christie

Bus

Manchester Oxford Road - Take any 41 / 42 / 43 / 142 / 143 bus. The stop is just after Withington Village - if you don't know where to get off ask the bus driver. If you are dropped off on Palatine Road (41 / 43 / 143) enter the hospital at the Palatine Road entrance (see map on next page). If you are dropped off on Wilmslow Road (42 / 142) enter the hospital at the Wilmslow Road entrance

Tram

Tram – West Didsbury Stop – (0.5 miles from hospital) – 13 min walk

The West Didsbury stop on the East Didsbury Metrolink line is situated just a 10-15 minute (0.5 miles) walk away from the Christie. Directions for this walk can be accessed via google maps <http://goo.gl/maps/mUHXN>

Train

Train – Mauldeth Road (1.2 miles from hospital) – 4 mins in taxi / 20 min walk

Car

Car parks are visible on the map overleaf but there are very limited parking spaces around the site. You may need to allow yourself extra time to find an on-street parking space. Carpark C is the multi-storey carpark

Finding the Education Centre

Once inside the hospital, the Education Centre is relatively straightforward to find as it is in the centre of the main building and above the visitors canteen – The Wilmslow Dining Room. There are three main entrances for visitors – Oak Road Reception, Palatine Road and Wilmslow Road (Outpatients)

1. Entering at Oak Road Reception – follow signs to Wilmslow Dining Room or Education Centre down the glass corridor passing the Conservatory and Cancer Information Centre. Take a left at the end of the corridor and go past the Social Work department. The Centre is on the top floor above the Dining Room
2. Entering from Palatine Road entrance – follow signs to Wilmslow Dining Room or Education Centre past North West Medical Physics, Communications and the Haematology & Transplant Unit. The Centre is on the top floor above the Dining Room
3. Entering from Wilmslow Road (Outpatients) entrance – follow signs to Wilmslow Dining Room or Education Centre passing Outpatients, Radiotherapy, Pat Seed and Social Work. The Centre is on the top floor above the Dining Room

The Education Centre is situated in department 17 and is indicated on the below siteplan
