

SECOND ANNOUNCEMENT

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

THE 29TH WORLD CONGRESS OF THE INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE FOR MAXILLO FACIAL SURGERY

LIMASSOL, CYPRUS, 05-09 OCTOBER 2015, LANITIS CAROB MILL

ABOUT LIMASSOL:

Limassol (also called Lemesos) is the second largest city of Cyprus with a population of approximately 180,000. It is one of six districts and covers an area of 34.87 square kilometers. Located on the southern coast, Limassol stretches around westward to the Paphos district, bordering with the district of Larnaca on the east and with Nicosia on the north.

It is the island's main port, a main tourist and business centre as well as the centre of the wine industry of the island. Limassol has two of the most spectacular archaeological sites in Cyprus. Situated both on cliff tops with spectacular views overlooking the Mediterranean Sea, Amathus is at the Eastern coast of Limassol whereas Kourion at the Western coast of Limassol.

The vivacious city centre, seems to offer a journey through time where the University with its bustling young students aiming for a brighter future is just a few streets away from the old market and ancient castle which link us to the past. Gracefully blending old with new continues, as across the seafront one can appreciate the cosmopolitan side of Limassol with its contemporary business structures and modern apartment buildings while only several kilometers away one can find charming areas with cobblestone streets, quaint buildings with overhanging terraces under which there are a profusion of small shops, restaurants and cafes.

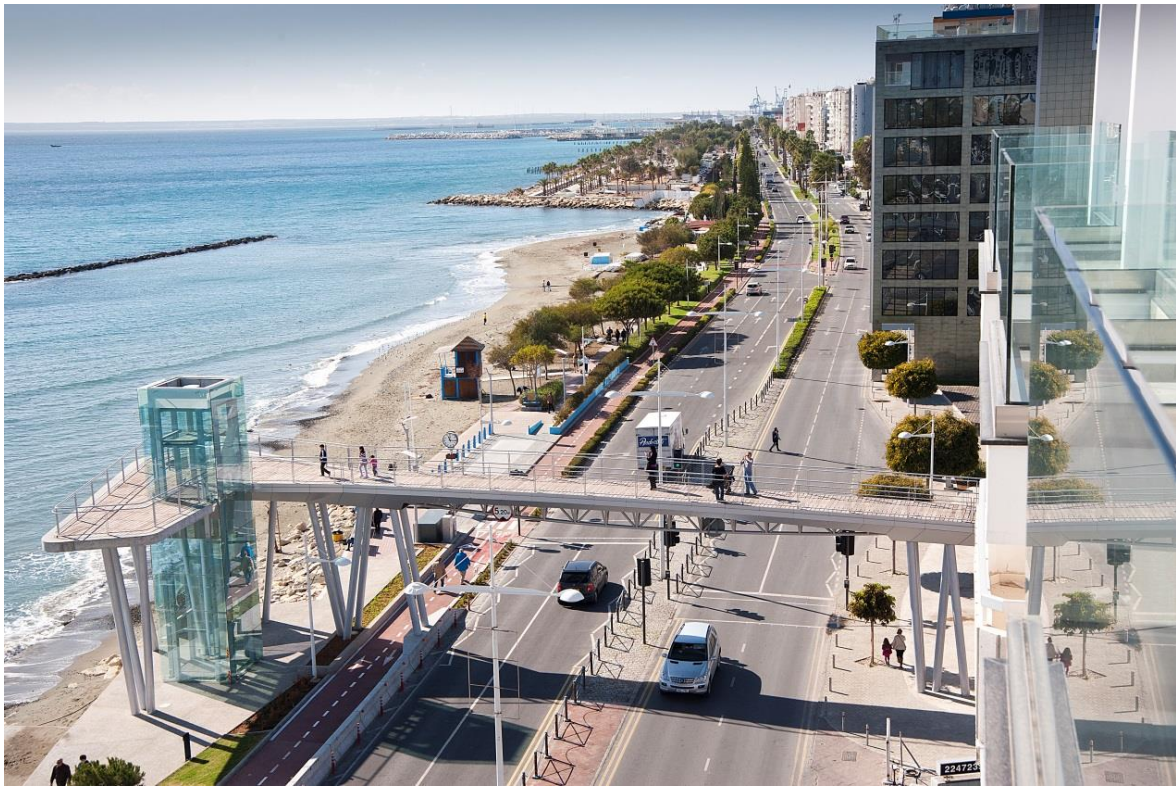

Several projects which are currently planned or have already been completed in Limassol will contribute to an upgrading and significant transformation of this area within the next few years. Along with its unique identity, convenient location, cosmopolitan character and the richness in history and culture, the new face of Limassol will strengthen and enhance its role as a distinct prime sea-side destination for business and leisure.

Just next to the ICMFS 2015 venue, Lanitis Carob Mill, lay the recently completed projects of the Limassol Marina which provides for the mooring of yachts at sea and on shore, the Old Port area that includes coffee shops, restaurants and a Nautical Museum as well as the recently renewed Molos Park a very popular park in the town of Limassol frequently used from locals and tourists in the afternoon for a walk by the beach.

Also recently completed projects include the multifunctional "GSO" Athletic Centre and the Limassol Olympic Swimming Pool which can cater to international swimming teams that wish to train in Limassol and enjoy the mild weather of the island. In appreciation of the crafts, an Artists' Neighbourhood is currently organised to host local art workshops and to exhibit mosaics, icons, pottery and other pieces of traditional Cypriot art.

These are just the stepping stones which lead to many more items on the agenda which will enhance what Limassol has to offer to locals and visitors.

CONGRESS VENUE:

The 29th World Congress of the International College for MaxilloFacial Surgery will be held at Lanitis Carob Mill Congress Area an exquisite congress area.

Lanitis Carob Mill was built in the early 1900s when carobs were one of the main exports of Cyprus. It is one of the largest, if not the largest, listed industrial building in Cyprus. The building was used as for processing and manufacturing products such as film, medicine, sweets and chocolates.

Despite the passage of more than hundred years, most of the milling equipment for processing is still preserved and exhibited in the Carob Mill Museum. The location of the museum between the Medieval Castle and the new Limassol marina connect the past with the present and add in contemporary secular Limassol part of the tapestry of local history. The building was renovated on 2002 including inside its premises the Carob Mill museum, the facilities of the Evagoras and Kathleen Lanitis Foundation, the Richard & Berengaria Ballrooms and Karatello restaurant which are owned and operated by Carob Mill Restaurants Ltd.

The combination of stone, wood and glass highlight the aesthetics while the view of the Medieval Castle inspire the visitors.
