Dear Healthcare Professional,

We are very proud to introduce the 1st Image Guided Interventions conference, the first focusing on this subject in the region.

Medical image guided interventions (IGI) have played an increasingly important role in healthcare during the past two decades. There is considerable research activity in the fields of new imaging devices and technologies, imaging agent development, image-guided systems, methodologies and therapies. These advances provide unlimited possibilities of image-guided interventions in all areas of patient diagnosis, treatment and monitoring.

By delivering a structured conference on this subject we aim to encourage the use of, and highlight new approaches to advanced imaging technologies to current patient practice. We will demonstrate how up-to-the-minute image guided therapeutic methods are necessary to help all physicians formulate the best treatment strategies for their patients.

This is a must attend continuing medical educational event.

I look forward to meeting you in January.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Jamal Al Koteesh
