About LogiPharma Asia

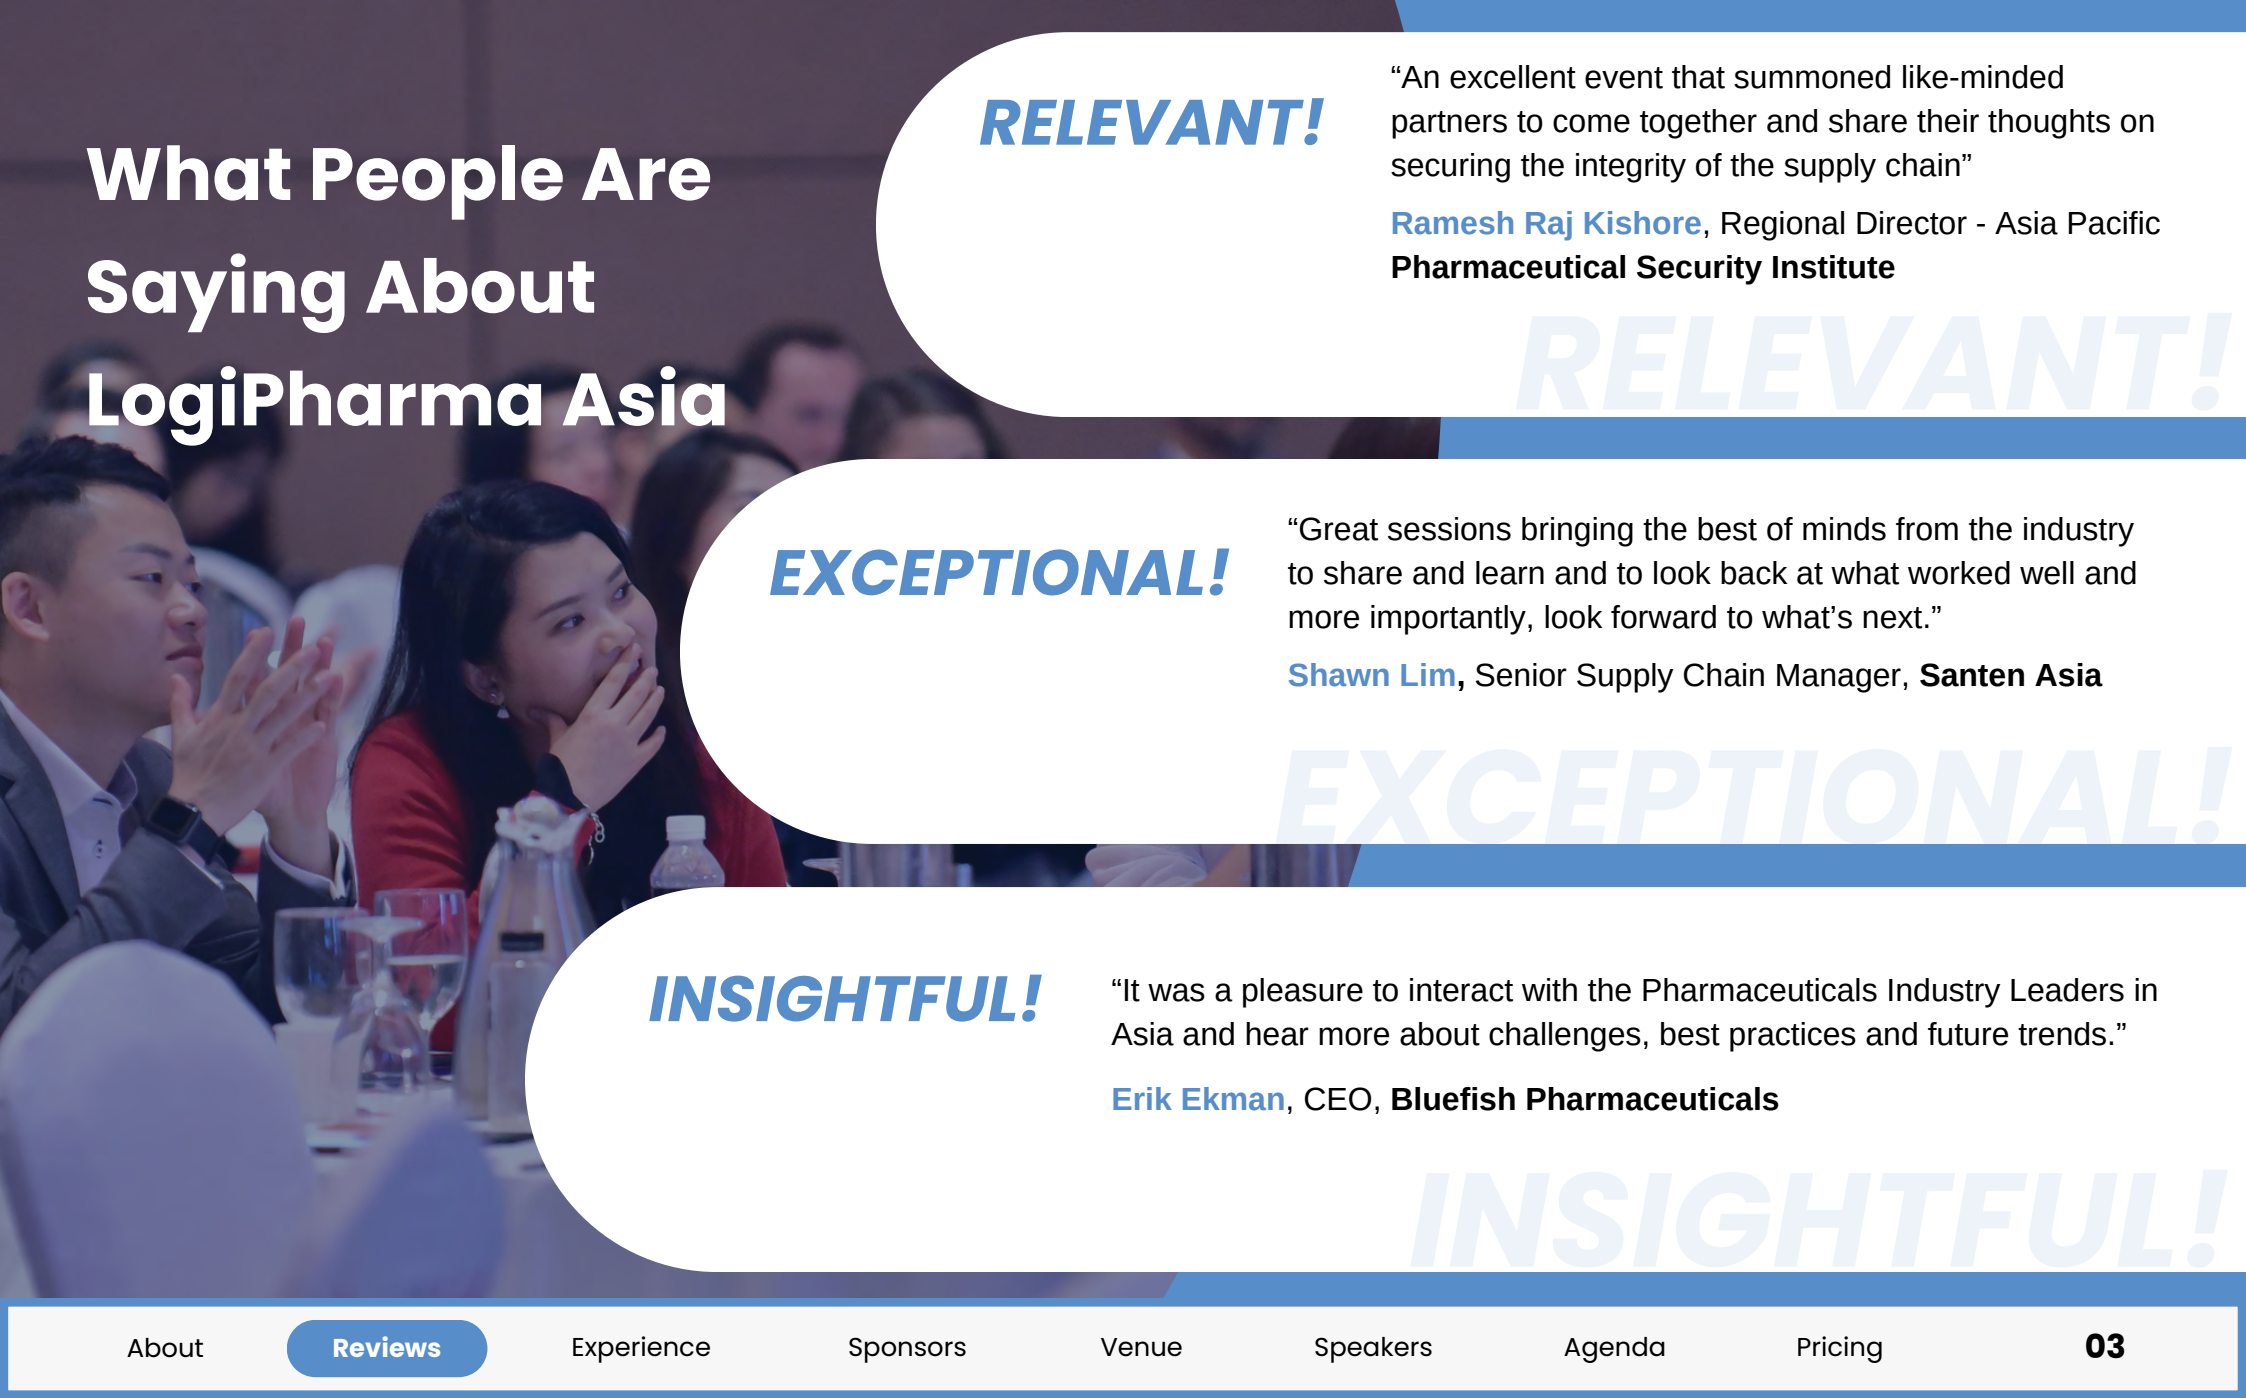

Your best opportunity to learn from and network with life science supply chain leaders

Held in the sunny island of Singapore, our summit is uniquely positioned for global decision-makers and Asia-based supply chain leaders from world-leading pharmaceutical and life science businesses to come together to discuss winning strategies and solutions to key global challenges.

Join us for the opportunity to network and collaborate with leading life science supply chain leaders as they share practical insights on how to:

- Enhance supply chain resilience and minimise risks associated with geopolitical events, natural disasters, and public health emergencies
- Leverage a digital twin of your E2E supply chain to drive accurate decision making, cost reduction and improved service levels
- Tailor your supply chain strategy to address regional variations in regulations, infrastructure, and consumer behaviour across the diverse markets you operate in
- Balance sustainability goals with cost considerations and effectively measure the environmental performance of your supply chain
- Adapt your strategies successfully to navigate supply chain challenges in emerging markets

5 Reasons Why LogiPharma Asia is Like No Other

#1

No other event brings together so many supply chain, logistics and operation leaders from leading pharmaceutical and life science companies. With 200+ leaders from leading regional and international firms gathered under one roof, the summit allows you to benchmark your strategies with those ahead of the curve.

#2

No other event unites so many leaders from the pharma supply chain and logistics community, turning Equarius Hotel Sentosa into the ultimate networking hub! You'll hear from COOs, CIOs, CDOs, Global Heads, VPs, Directors and functional leaders - i.e. those that are in the trenches doing the work. We cut out the fluff you get at other conferences to give you tons of actionable strategies to increase your profits.

#3

No other event offers the most up-to-date, in-depth and comprehensive agenda. The event is built on 50+ research interviews to ensure all your challenges and opportunities are addressed.

#4

No other event offers a more interactive agenda giving you valuable, intimate and extended face time with your peers to solve common challenges. Benefit from over 30 hours of discussion groups, industry specific panel sessions, case studies, roundtables, networking activities, and much more.

#5

No other event gives you the biggest and best pharma supply chain focused speaker faculty in the business, featuring 40+ top minds from the industry to ensure you walk away with practical insights from those leading the way.
