Dear Colleague:

We invite you to join us in Las Vegas for a unique opportunity—two full days of leadership-focused learning, networking and idea-sharing with correctional health care leaders from around the country.

Today's correctional environment requires multidimensional leadership from clinicians, executives and managers who can juggle many demands while also keeping up with rapid change. The Leadership Institutes will address many of these challenges and offer fresh perspectives, ideas and solutions.

Explore legal, operational and medical topics: personnel issues, budget challenges, quality improvement, risk management and more. The sessions are designed specifically for clinicians and administrators who are part of the management team—seasoned executives as well as emerging leaders on track for the next level.

NCCHC, the only national organization dedicated solely to improving the quality of health care in jails, prisons and juvenile confinement facilities, has put together an exciting curriculum taught by first-rate faculty consisting of expert clinicians, administrators and thought leaders. The program tackles both essential and advanced topics that are top-of-mind to today's correctional clinicians and administrators.

This educational programming is produced in conjunction with the Academy of Correctional Health Professionals and the American College of Correctional Physicians, the largest professional societies for correctional physicians and health professionals in the world.

The conference also offers ample networking opportunities, exhibits and the excitement of Las Vegas. We look forward to seeing you in July.

Best regards,

Eileen Couture, DO, RN, CCHP-P

Chair, National Commission on Correctional Health Care

Margaret Collatt, BSN, RN, CCHP-RN, CCHP-A

Chair, Academy of Correctional Health Professionals

SPECIAL THANKS

Wexford Health Sources, Inc., has made a generous sponsorship investment to help support this event.

More opportunities are available.

Contact sales@ncchc.org for more information.

Today's correctional environment demands a lot of its leaders. In a complex and changing world, learning is more essential than ever. At the Leadership Institutes, correctional physicians, other clinicians and administrators will gather to learn from one another and from expert speakers. Gain fresh perspectives, explore new ideas and learn effective strategies for taking a multidimensional approach to correctional health care.

Conference Educational Objectives

Attendees will be able to:

- Examine the role of correctional health care leaders including administrative roles, organizing health services and applying legal and ethical practices
- Employ process improvement systems such as quality improvement, utilization review and risk management
- Identify recruitment, retention and supervision best practices for effective staff management
- Describe strategies for integrating health care services and personnel into a correctional setting

CCHPs, nurses and physicians can receive 15 hours of continuing education credit by attending this program. CE for psychologists and dentists will also be available.

CCHP: The Mark of Professional LEADERSHIP, COMMITMENT and EXPERTISE

The CCHP credential recognizes mastery of national standards and the specialized knowledge required of a correctional health professional. It's also a steppingstone and eligibility requirement toward advanced and specialty certification, including the Certified Correctional Health Professional – Physician (CCHP-P), Certified Correctional Health Professional – Mental Health (CCHP-MH) and Certified Correctional Health Professional – Registered Nurse (CCHP-RN) certifications.

The CCHP and specialty exams will be offered in conjunction with the Leadership Institutes on July 29.

- Elevate your basic CCHP certification with specialty certification in your field
- Demonstrate a foundation of expertise in your specialty
- Show correctional facilities your specialized knowledge
- Encourage the field to recognize mental health and medical care in corrections as specialties

Earlier that day, candidates registered for the CCHP-MH or CCHP-P exams will have access to a content review session for those specialty exams. The review sessions will be taught by members of the CCHP-MH and CCHP-P subcommittees, who have insight and knowledge of the exam scope and content. This is an excellent opportunity to ask questions and refresh the information you have learned while studying for the exam.

CCHP-P and CCHP-MH content review sessions: Saturday, July 29, 10 am – 12 pm

CCHP and specialty exams: Saturday, July 29, 3 pm – 5 pm

The application deadline is June 22. Learn more at www.ncchc.org/cchp.

Leadership and learning are indispensable to each other.”

“The innovative solutions shared on how to manage our clients were insightful and practical. I don’t feel lonely doing correctional medicine anymore. I would highly recommend my colleagues to attend future NCCHC conferences.”

—Past Attendee

“This experience was very helpful and made issues such as boundaries and ethics clearer. I am better able to support my opinions and judgments about health care in corrections.”

—Gail Kubrin, MD, Allegheny Health Network

“My attendance at the conference helped me to learn from experienced providers in their respective fields. From managing stress in the corrections environment to site-specific CQI and the benefits of CCHP certification and NCCHC accreditation, the conference reaffirmed that the field of correctional health care is one of quality and continuing to grow in a positive direction.”
