ENROLLMENT IN THE 23RD ANNUAL REFRESHER COURSE IS A PRE-REQUISITE TO ATTENDING INVITATION DAY.

LOCATION: Eric P. Newman Education Center, 320 South Euclid Ave, St. Louis, MO 63110

Wednesday, February 25, 2015

Participating surgeons will spend the day at the Washington University Medical Center and Barnes-Jewish Hospital observing cases in the operating room and interacting with members of the Department of Surgery. Surgeons may choose from one of two options:

Option 1 - Mini Fellowship in Advanced Laparoscopic Surgery (Participation is limited to 6 surgeons)

This one day course is designed to expose the practicing general surgeon to a variety of advanced laparoscopic operative cases. Surgeons will spend the day observing cases in the advanced laparoscopy suites at Barnes-Jewish North operating rooms. The day will include interactive dialogue with the operating surgeon, comprehensive discussion of operative techniques for advanced laparoscopic cases and review of evidence-based outcomes for scheduled procedures.

Option 2 - Mini Fellowship in Colorectal Surgery (Participation is limited to 8 surgeons)

This observational course will expose the general surgeon to a variety of operative techniques in colorectal surgery with a special focus on laparoscopic colectomy and benign anorectal disease. Surgeons will spend the day observing cases in the colorectal surgery suites in the Barnes-Jewish South operating rooms. The day will include interactive dialogue with the operating surgeon and a discussion of operative approaches and clinical problem solving.

The registration fee is $325. Lunch and transportation between Four Seasons Hotel St. Louis and the medical center will be provided.

Component Separation in Complex Abdominal Wall Hernia Repair Course

ENROLLMENT IN THE 23RD ANNUAL REFRESHER COURSE IS A PRE-REQUISITE TO ATTENDING THIS COURSE.

LOCATION: Eric P. Newman Education Center, 320 South Euclid Ave, St. Louis, MO 63110

Wednesday, February 25, 2015

Course Chairs: Grant V. Bochicchio, MD, MPH and William Symons, MD

This course begins at 8:00am and is an intensive didactic course designed for the clinical management of complex abdominal wall hernias. We will review the latest data and discuss the advantages and disadvantages of various open ventral hernia repairs. Provide practical solutions to preserve periumbilical perforators during abdominal wall reconstruction and myofascial advancement flap creation. We will discuss the different meshes and fixation products available the evidence behind them and our personal practice. The course will also include observation of a live surgery broadcast directly from the OR in the afternoon of a massive incisional hernia. The course will be hosted by the Washington University specialty hernia physician team and Barnes-Jewish Hospital.

The registration fee is $225. Lunch and transportation between Four Seasons Hotel St. Louis and the medical center will be provided.

23rd Annual Refresher Course & Update in General Surgery

LOCATION: Four Seasons Hotel St. Louis, 999 North Second Street, St. Louis, MO 63102

Thursday - Saturday, February 26 - February 28, 2015

This course is designed for General and Specialty Surgeons and non-surgical physicians interested in the following surgical areas: colorectal, endocrine, breast, hernia, minimally invasive, hepatobiliary, surgical oncology, and trauma and critical care surgery. The intended result of this live activity is improvements in competence, performance and patient care and at the conclusion of the course the registrant should be able to:

- Discuss the diagnosis and management of soft tissue and intraabdominal infections.
- Explain how quality improvement initiatives are used and how they can affect surgeons.
- Explain the latest clinical evidence and recommendations in the treatment of breast cancer.
- Diagnose and treat endocrine diseases of the thyroid, parathyroid, and adrenal glands.
- Formulate surgical treatment strategies for diseases of the colon, rectum, and anus.
- Discuss the recent advances in the treatment of melanoma and other skin cancers.
- Recognize and use plastic surgery techniques in the practice of general surgery.
- Diagnose and treat enterocutaneous fistulas and bowel obstructions.
- Discuss new surgical and non-invasive techniques used in vascular surgery.
- Explain the evaluation and surgical approaches to benign esophageal diseases.
- Identify pitfalls in gallbladder surgery that may lead to biliary injuries.
- Explain the role of interventional radiology and gastroenterology in the treatment of severe acute pancreatitis.

MEET THE PROFESSOR BREAKFAST SESSIONS: These are small teaching groups covering topics not presented in the main course which provide the opportunity for highly interactive communication in areas of particular interest to registrants. Attendees will participate in this special 1.5 hour session before the General Session begins on Friday morning.

MAINTENANCE OF CERTIFICATION

MOC Part 2 - Lifelong Learning and Self-Assessment

The American Board of Surgery requires that surgeons must obtain 60 hours of self-assessment CME over 3 years in order to maintain certification. The Refresher Course will provide surgeons with up to 18 hours of self-assessment CME credits toward fulfillment of that requirement. In order to claim self-assessment CME, participants must complete a post-test assessment administered via online module. Washington University CME will not be responsible for reporting this MOC Part 2 credit to the American Board of Surgery.

ACCREDITATION

Washington University is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

CREDIT: Washington University designates these live activities for AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in these activities.
