ADVANCES IN INFECTIOUS DISEASES:

New Directions for Primary Care

Hilton San Francisco
Financial District Hotel
San Francisco, CA

April 22-24, 2015

The Division of Infectious Diseases, Department of Medicine, University of California, San Francisco presents its annual symposium on Advances in Infectious Diseases. Now marking its 36th year, this conference emphasizes state-of-the-art therapy for patients with infectious diseases and also provides reviews of new developments.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This educational activity is intended for internists, family physicians, general practitioners, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, nurses, and pharmacists, who are involved in the care of patients with infectious diseases.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

An attendee completing this course should be able to:

- Select appropriate treatment regimens for specific infections such as community acquired pneumonia, urinary tract infections, and bone and joint infections;
- Effectively manage common infections seen in the outpatient setting, including upper respiratory infections, pneumonia, urinary tract infections, dermatologic infections, and diarrhea;
- Understand infectious considerations in certain groups at special risk, including those with HIV and diabetes;
- Understand how the emergence of drug-resistant organisms is shaping therapy of common problems such as community-acquired pneumonia, sinusitis, pharyngitis, urinary tract infections, and sexually transmitted diseases;
- Interpret and apply up-to-date information on less common infections in the U.S., including tuberculosis, infections in travelers, and emerging infections;
- Counsel patients regarding new vaccines and expanded indications for established vaccines.

ACCREDITATION

The University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine (UCSF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 18.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This CME activity meets the requirements under California Assembly Bill 1195, continuing education and cultural and linguistic competency.

Nurses:

For the purpose of recertification, the American Nurses Credentialing Center accepts AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ issued by organizations accredited by the ACCME.

Physician Assistants:

AAPA accepts category 1 credit from AOACCME, Prescribed credit from AAFP, and AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ from organizations accredited by the ACCME.

Pharmacy:

The California Board of Pharmacy accepts as continuing professional education those courses that meet the standard of relevance to pharmacy practice and have been approved for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™.

Family Physicians:

Application for CME credit has been filed with the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Determination of credit is pending.
