This program is specifically designed for physicians, trainees, and allied health professionals with a strong interest or clinical practice in the fields of gastroenterology and hepatology. This course will serve as an update on the latest diagnostic and therapeutic issues in gastroenterology and hepatology.

The program has been developed using a case-based question and answer format, designed to replicate clinical scenarios, and thus serve as an intensive review tool for those attendees taking the GI/Hepatology Board Certification examination.

This activity has been approved for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™
