

The Pulvertaft

Assessment and Management of Acute Hand Injuries

The original, high-quality training course, successfully run since 2000

25 September 2015

Venue: Centre for Research & Development, Kingsway Hospital, Derby

One day comprehensive course suitable for all A&E staff, CTS, ST1,2 + 3, ENPs, Nurses & Therapists, covering all major aspects of acute hand injuries, when to treat and when to refer.

Faculty

Royal Derby Consultants: Miss J Arrowsmith, Miss M O'Brien, Mr P Russell & Dr Z Sheikh
Professional valuable contribution from experienced hand nursing & hand therapy staff

External: Mr A Kocheta, Rotherham General Hospital & Mr A Raine, Stafford General Hospital

Among the course topics:

- Surgical Anatomy
- Examination of the Hand
- Reading X-rays
- Dressing and Splinting
- Primary Management
- Medico Legal Issues
- Local Anaesthesia

as well as informative workshops and group discussion

Some feedback from last course:

"Brilliant thoroughly enjoyed it. Helped to consolidate/ increase my hand acute injuries knowledge."

"Beautifully presented/ lots of course information" "Fantastic course, excellent anatomy and practical aspect."

"Well delivered, very educational and will improve my patient assessment and delivery."

COURSE FEES (inclusive of lunch & refreshments):

Received BEFORE or ON 28 August 2015 £130.00

Received AFTER 28 August 2015 £160.00

For more information and application forms please contact:

Stefania Wigelsworth, Research & Postgraduate Administrator

Email: stefania.wigelsworth@nhs.net telephone: 01332 787490

Alternatively book online:

www.pulvertafthandcentre.org.uk

