The Trauma-Informed Pediatrician:
Identifying Toxic Stress and Promoting Resilience

Friday, October 23, 2015

11:30AM – 5:30PM

The Trauma-Informed Pediatrician: Identifying Toxic Stress and Promoting Resilience

The Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACE) Study demonstrates that the more adverse experiences a child has, the greater the likelihood the child will have physical and mental health challenges. Issues such as child maltreatment, exposure to interpersonal violence or parental drug use can last into adulthood, possibly resulting in premature death. However, if identified and addressed early, the biological impact of toxic stress can be minimized. In this session, pediatricians will learn how to identify and address toxic stress in the lives of their patients and families. Practitioners will identify how to access resources that help promote resilience, giving children and adolescents an opportunity to live a healthy life.

Supported by AAP Friends of Children Fund

MOC Part 2

Peds 21 will offer an online self-assessment as a bonus to registered conference attendees. This will enhance the learning experience at the live activity, and provide 10 American Board of Pediatrics MOC Part 2 points in addition to the CME credit earned by attending the course. You must complete the pre-course self-assessment, attend Peds 21, and complete the post-course self-assessment to be eligible to claim 10 MOC Part 2 points.

The AAP National Conference offers over 350 sessions running concurrently throughout the meeting, covering a full range of pediatric topics.

Use the online AAP Conference Planner to:

Special Events

The AAP offers incredible networking and social events throughout the conference. Our events include the President's Welcome Reception and Kids' Camp Family Reception on Friday night which will highlight the best entertainment in our nation's capital. The Washington, DC Experience! will include several options as the AAP creates a "Night at the Theater". The Kennedy Center for Performing Arts will be the perfect setting for choosing a performance of Beautiful, The Carole King Musical or the famous who-done-it comedy Shear Madness. Children and families may enjoy a movie and treats at one of our headquarter hotels. Register early as these events are likely to sell out.

Washington, DC Tourism

In Washington, DC, you'll enjoy access to fascinating, FREE attractions and historic sights. Touch a moon rock, marvel at the Hope Diamond, view Dorothy's Ruby Red slippers or explore Native American culture at the Smithsonian Institution's 17 Washington, DC area facilities. Discover treasures like the Gutenberg Bible at the Library of Congress, the only da Vinci painting in North America at the National Gallery of Art, and historic documents like the Declaration of Independence at the National Archives.

Away from these celebrated federal sites, Washington, DC unwinds into a fascinating network of neighborhoods where visitors discover trendy boutiques, hip bars and restaurants, plus art galleries, historic homes, and lush parks and gardens. Shoppers love the store-lined streets of Georgetown, while jazz music fans won't want to miss a trip to U Street, where Duke Ellington played his first notes. The city's international character shines through in its Adams Morgan and Dupont Circle neighborhoods, two prime destinations for eclectic dining and nightlife, and the historic center of the city's embassy community.
