Monday 3 December 2018 De Vere West One Conference Centre, London

Healthcare Conferences UK in association with Christopher Fincken, Independent Member UK Caldicott Guardian Council, (Chairman 2012-2017) & Caldicott Guardian at Marie Curie are pleased to announce this Conference which will focus on Information Sharing and Caldicott Principles in End of Life care. Following the success of our previous Caldicott Guardian National Conferences, and feedback from our regular Caldicott Training Masterclasses, this conference will focus on developing your role in improving communication and information sharing at the end of life whilst ensuring patient confidentiality.

"Its not only about what you can do legally but what you should be doing morally and ethically. Many IG experts do not understand that there is an ethical side to this... sometimes its right to breach the law if it's the right thing to do" Dawn Monaghan Head of Data Sharing and Privacy NHS England

This conference will enable you to:

- Network with fellow End of Life Care Professionals, Caldicott Guardians and IG Leads working to ensure adherence to Caldicott principles in end of life care services
- Understand and reflect on decision making around information sharing
- Update your knowledge on ethical decision making principles and frameworks and how you can implement these in decision making practice
- Understand when information can be shared with relatives, other professionals and services, and when it cannot
- Learn from established practice in the delivery of Caldicott Principles in End of Life care
- Understand the legal and ethical implications around information sharing and the Duty of Candour
- Ensure you understand the implications of information sharing after death including the complexities of the ethical as well as legal considerations in how we handle data relating to the deceased with relatives and bereavement services
- Learn from the Coroners perspective on information sharing and disclosure
- Understand the implications of GDPR to end of life care services
- Self assess and reflect on your own practice
- Gain CPD accreditation points contributing to professional development and revalidation evidence

100% of delegates at our previous conference on this subject would recommend it to a colleague
