

European Delirium Association & British Geriatrics Society Dementia and related disorders Special Interest Group meeting

All events at Waterloo Campus, King's College London unless stated otherwise

Venue: Waterloo Campus, King's College London.

Main meeting: 3-4th September 2015 with
2nd September Pre-conference Delirium Training Day.

2nd September Pre-conference Delirium Training Day

The EDA pre-conference is aimed at a multi-disciplinary audience, and presumes no background knowledge. There will be the opportunity to hear talks from experts and meet people with shared interests. Topics covered will include :

- What is delirium and how to make a diagnosis
- Prevention and management
- Delirium in special situations: medical, post-operative, palliative care etc.
- Challenging case studies

Main meeting: 3rd & 4th September

Two day conference for all health professionals interested in delirium research, education and policy. Sessions include:

- Biological basis of delirium neuropsychiatry
- Critical care and perioperative delirium
- Palliative care and nursing home delirium
- Experimental models for delirium research
- Innovations in delirium education
- Setting up a delirium service

Keynote speaker: Dr Colm Cunningham, Trinity College Dublin

Who should attend:

- Consultants and specialist doctors in geriatric medicine
- Old age psychiatrists
- Neurologists
- Researchers in geriatric medicine
- Doctors training in related specialties
- GPs wsi in Older People and GP trainees
- Nurses and allied health professionals specialising in Dementia care
- Core medical trainees considering a career in geriatric medicine

Why participate:

- Understand more on the key areas and challenges faced in geriatric medicine
- Hear focused presentations on core areas of the geriatric medicine
- Present the latest scientific research to the EDA and BGS membership
- Attend small group workshop sessions
- Network and socialise with other healthcare professionals over three days

This meeting has applied for CPD accreditation from the Royal College of Physicians (London)

Dear All,

We are pleased to announce that abstract submission for the 10th European Delirium Association conference in London (Sep 4-5, 2015) will be opening next week. The closing date is 15 July. Authors can choose to be considered for oral presentation alone, oral presentation or poster, or poster. The results of the abstract adjudication will be announced by 30 July. We expect to accept all submissions meeting the basic requirements; the adjudication is concerned with which submissions are selected for oral presentations.

Abstracts should be submitted through the BGS website: <http://bit.ly/EDABGS15Abstracts>

Please see www.europeandeliriumassociation.com; www.eda2015london.org for further information from the start of June. Further information on conference registration and accommodation will also be provided in June

Kind regards,

Daniel Davis, on behalf of the EDA 10 organising committee
