It is a great honor for me to be invited back for the third time to be the Keynote speaker at the GCIH2022, Global Congress on Integrated Healthcare Conference!

In this Engaging, Entertaining and Educational Keynote I will lead you through the process of understanding human behavior from a Personality type or temperament viewpoint, you will be challenged to look deeply into you very own personality type and you will understand yourself and others better, become a more effective communicator, a more dynamic leader, and you will have more influence with the people around you.

WELCOME MESSAGES FROM URF COMMITTEE

Dr. Ben A Sutter DMD

Chair, Head of Dental Scientific Committee
United Research Forum

Dear Colleagues and Health Care Providers,
I am looking forward to GCIH2022 and hoping to see you there. This meeting will be exceptional whether you decide to attend in person or virtually. Top providers, clinicians and researchers from multiple disciplines will be organized to present the latest progress in scientific innovations. This conference exists to share ideas and move all respective specialties forward with an integrated wholistic approach to patient care and innovation. Thank you to Dr Vanga and Professor Narvasa in leading us in this endeavor.

Prof. Otilia Manta

Geology Scientific Committee Member
United Research Forum

It is an honor and a real pleasure to be with the United Research Forum team-organizer of the special event GCIH2022 between May 17-18, 2022 in KEMPINSKI HOTEL ISHTAR DEAD SEA, JORDAN, which is why I thank the URF Director Dr Vanga, Prof Elvessa Narvasa head of committee, and International Scientific Coordinator Mr John Surendran, for the opportunity to address a few personal thoughts, and last but not least to the entire URF team.

The conference includes presentations related to “Healthcare management in today’s highly interconnected world”, but also creates a multidisciplinary bridge to new directions of action, which is why experts are present in the medical field and all complementary fields and its support. The very field of financial research to which they belong, is and will be a supporting pillar of the medical field.

The current multi-crises, digitalization and climate change are generating systemic changes at the societal and global levels, with a direct impact on the well-being of the population, the way of life and health at the individual level. At the global level, there are already more and more frequent disasters and perils with a direct impact on society. The most affected and vulnerable to these current challenges, especially in the face of such climate change, are the poorest, least developed countries (LDCs). In addition, the extent of future systemic risks to a given location is subject to uncertainties in predicting complex climate dynamics, as well as the impact of individual and societal decisions that determine future greenhouse gas emissions, as well as socio-economic development patterns and inequality gap; with a direct impact on human health at the plantar level.

Our high-level academic event aims to call for action on the urgent need for state and non-state actors to be actively involved and to manage the risks of loss and damage caused by climate change and to share the approaches they take locally, national and international for the direct purpose of the good of all. Furthermore, the speakers’ interventions address current priority issues, the key political priorities that their countries pursue to accelerate progress in measuring the adaptation of the population to current challenges, scientific progress in medicine and medical education, and last but not least innovative financial instruments support current global challenges. HYBRID connection offers the possibility of permanent interconnection bringing together experts both through personal presence and online, creating opportunities under a single academic framework.
