Conference Overview

“Despite substantially higher spending on healthcare per person than comparable high-income countries, maternal deaths and severe maternal morbidity levels in the USA more closely resemble some low-income countries.” “The steep increase of deaths is mirrored by another troubling trend in the past decade, the notable increase in serious, but often preventable, obstetric complications.” These quotes from the Lancet cover and editorial respectively in the September 2018 issue are the cause of grave concern for all who provide care for women, either during preconception, pregnancy, delivery, or the postpartum period. The fact that both Black and Hispanic pregnant women have 2-4 times higher risk of death compared to white women is truly troubling. This is particularly so since more than 60% of these deaths were avoidable. In 2015, the US maternal mortality rate was 26.4 per 100,000 live births, with rates in Canada and Sweden being 4.4 and 7.3 per 100,000 respectively.

These stark facts point especially to failures in pre- and postgraduate medical education and recognizes that medical negligence is at once individual, systemic, organizational, and compounded by patient-related factors.

Insufficient attention is paid to the cognitive sciences that have such a key role in medical care. More than 100 cognitive biases affect decision-making, clinical reasoning, and critical thinking. Teaching debiasing techniques could seriously and positively influence the major cause of medical negligence, that is diagnostic error coupled with faculty decision-making. There are over 200,000 deaths each year due to medical negligence.

It is time to require medical students, residents, and fellows to obtain a certificate in risk management before graduation and/or before entering clinical practice. For physicians in practice, a required 1-hour online CME refresher course on risk management upon license renewal is needed.

Target Audience

The major objectives in these two conferences are to enhance the continuing education of a range of specialties in medicine and allied professions, including obstetrics, gynecology, midwifery, neonatology, medicine, surgery, family medicine, emergency medicine, cardiology, radiology, human genetics, and ethics. The key reasons that have characterized the success of these conferences for the past 35 and 19 years, respectively, are the highly qualified and renowned medical faculty, and the interactive insights and lessons concerning the role of law and lawyers, communicated by acknowledged “super lawyers.” Only through a thorough understanding of the complexities of medicine and law can physicians and litigators hope to deal effectively with the continuing challenges of medical and legal practice.

The specific goals of these conferences are to:

1. Teach healthcare professionals to better comprehend the machinations of negligence law, and to develop a more complete awareness of the need for anticipatory and safety practice.
2. Teach legal professionals about the complex issues encountered in the practice of medicine, including the intricacies of decision-making, aiming to sharpen their understanding on behalf of their clients, both plaintiff and defense.

Once again, an extraordinarily experienced and superb faculty has been assembled for the 36th and 20th anniversary conferences that will be important to all the specialties mentioned, including nurse practitioners, trial attorneys, in-house counsel, pediatricians, primary care physicians, insurers and claims personnel, risk managers and all providers of healthcare.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this conference, healthcare professionals will be able to articulate the role of law and lawyers in medical malpractice and discuss the complexities of the legal process.

At the conclusion of this conference, legal professionals will be able to describe “best-evidence” in medical malpractice as it pertains to obstetrics, gynecology, midwifery, neonatology, medicine, surgery, family medicine, emergency medicine, cardiology, radiology, and human genetics.

This activity is designed to address the following core and team competencies:

Patient Care and Medical Knowledge

Practice-based learning

Professionalism, Teams & Teamwork

Interprofessional Collaboration

Interprofessional Communication

Major topics include:

- Optimal timing of delivery
- Minimally invasive surgery
- Management of the second stage of labor
- Birth trauma and neonatal brain injury
- Genetics or hypoxic brain damage
- Critical care in obstetrics
- Trial of labor after Caesarean section
- Laparoscopy vs. robotics
- Brain injury and the ectoderm
- Pre-viable pregnancies
- Timing brain injury
- Maternal morbidity and Caesarean section
- Gestational diabetes
- Perinatal strokes and timing
- Genetics and neonatal encephalopathy
- Morcellation
- The fetus as plaintiff
- Communication failures and litigation
- Advances in medicine and recent verdicts
- Pregnancy and abdominal emergencies
- Telemedicine in obstetrics
- Genetic counseling, liability, and litigation
- Avoidable obstetrical errors and litigation
- Infections in pregnancy
- Risks of joint replacements
- Infections in the emergency department
- Implantable Cardioverter Defibrillators—ethics and law
- Genetic testing for breast cancer
- Robots in orthopedic surgery
- ICDs and pacemakers and advance directives
- Breast cancer gene mutations
- Arrhythmias and sudden death or stroke
- Litigation in arthroscopic surgery
- Breast implant consequences
- Pitfalls in urgent care
- Medicine, Law, and Ethics

Faculty

Aubrey Milunsky, MD, DSc, FRCP, FACMG, DCH

Conference Chair

Founder and Co-Director

Center for Human Genetics, Cambridge, MA

Adjunct Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Tufts University School of Medicine

Formerly Professor of Human Genetics, Pediatrics, Obstetrics & Gynecology and Pathology,

Boston University School of Medicine, Boston, MA

Professor Milunsky is internationally known for his work in prenatal genetic diagnosis, molecular genetics, and the epidemiology of birth defects. He is the author, editor, or co-editor of 26 books and author or co-author of 454 scientific communications. What Participants Are Saying:

This was an exceptional conference, as usual. This is my 10th conference and they are all fantastic.

Great, well-respected and very knowledgeable speakers, pertinent topics for both physicians and medical malpractice lawyers, and well organized and presented content.

"I have been in law practice for 38 years. This is the best conference I have ever attended."

The "gold standard" for birth trauma conferences! This conference far exceeded my expectations, as most speakers were very engaging and well-prepared. I most certainly will be back in the future.

Very good seminar! The combination of lawyers and physicians provided a very nice dynamic and it's always enlightening to hear problems analyzed from different perspectives.

"Best conference I have ever attended!" (comments from many participants)

"Thanks for creating such a unique type of conference – my 5th and always interesting, informative and useful"

"Always an outstanding program, superlative faculty, and an exotic location"

"As always an excellent course."

"A wonderful conference."

92% of registrants rated the conference as excellent, 8% as very good for the 34th year.
