ACCESS TO ANSWERS

No one likes to be sidelined. We've made sure all of the necessary pieces are in place to get you answers and information when you need it. What happens when you need a timely second opinion and can't make it to Green Bay? Our team here at Titledown Sports Medicine & Orthopedics can host secure video conferences to provide insight at a moment's notice.

UNMATCHED EXPERTISE/QUALITY OVER QUANTITY

Nationally renowned foot and ankle specialist Dr. Robert Anderson has established himself as the figurehead for Bellin Health Titledown Sports Medicine & Orthopedics. He is joined by a wide variety of fellowship trained physicians which includes Green Bay Packers' Medical Director Dr. Pat McKenzie; Packers' Medical Consultant Dr. Jim Ebben; and former Orlando Magic Team Physician Dr. James Spears. With the assistance of our hand/elbow, rheumatology, and total joint physicians, our team can provide a full spectrum of franchise-level care all under one roof.

STATE-OF-THE-ART TECHNOLOGY

Along with the best diagnostic equipment available, Titledown Sports Medicine & Orthopedics has invested in technology to analyze movements in ways that the others cannot (3Tesla Magnet MRI Scanner, h/p/cosmos treadmill, Bertec Force Plates, CycleOps trainers, and Simi Motion Capture technology). Our equipment will help enhance performance and prevent injuries. And, when injuries do occur, we're able to test an athlete and tell you when it's safe to return to your sport.

BUILDING RELATIONSHIPS, PREVENTING INJURIES

All the technology in the world won't matter without having a team with the expertise to use the information gathered by the technology. The rest of our team includes licensed athletic trainers, strength and conditioning specialists, athletic performance experts, and movement analysts. Their offices are here, but they'll bring their skills to the courts, fields, and facilities where athletes train and play.
