INDEPENDENT SYMPOSIA

There will be several independent symposia during the two days of Perspectives in Rheumatic Diseases. These symposia are independently organized and CME/CE credit may or may not be provided for these sessions. Symposia do not conflict with any educational sessions. For the symposia schedule, please see the conference website in the independent symposia section.

Global Academy for Medical Education and accredited provider, University of Louisville, reserve the right to modify the program content, faculty and program activities. We also reserve the right to cancel the activity if necessary. If the activity is cancelled, liability is limited to the registration fee.

ACCREDITATION AND DESIGNATION STATEMENTS

PHYSICIANS

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of the University of Louisville and Global Academy for Medical Education, LLC. The University of Louisville is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing education for physicians. The University of Louisville Office of Continuing Medical Education & Professional Development designates this live activity for a maximum of 13.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

ABIM MOC Points

Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn 13.5 MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine's (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program.

AAFP Credit

Application for CME credit has been filed with the American Academy of Family Physicians. Determination of credit is pending.

NURSES AND PHARMACISTS

JOINT ACCREDITATION STATEMENT

In support of improving patient care, this activity has been planned and implemented by the Postgraduate Institute for Medicine and Global Academy for Medical Education. Postgraduate Institute for Medicine is jointly accredited by the American Council on Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

JOINTLY ACCREDITED PROVIDER
INTERNATIONAL BOARD OF STANDARDS FOR NURSING EDUCATION

CONTINUING PHARMACY EDUCATION

Postgraduate Institute for Medicine designates this continuing education activity for 13.5 contact hours (1.35 CEUs) of the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education.

Type of Activity: Application

Pharmacists have up to 30 days to complete the evaluation and claim credit for participation so that information can be submitted to CPE Monitor as required.

CONTINUING NURSING EDUCATION

The maximum number of hours awarded for this Continuing Nursing Education activity is 13.5 contact hours. Pharmacotherapy contact hours for Advanced Practice Nurses will be designated on your certificate.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES

All relevant financial relationships with any commercial interests and/or manufacturers must be disclosed to participants at the beginning of each activity.

SPECIAL NEEDS

We encourage participation by all individuals. If you have a disability, advance notification of any special needs will help us better serve you. Please contact Global Academy for Medical Education at least 3 weeks in advance at 312-965-8006 or t.rillo@globalacademycme.com.

Refunds will not be issued to no-shows.

After completing this live activity, participants should be better able to:

- Identify the features of a patient who has difficult-to-treat (D2T) rheumatoid arthritis (RA).
- Generate a clinical management plan to address the needs of people with D2T RA.
- Review new and emerging ACR/EULAR guidelines for rheumatic disorders.
- Describe the screening assays for vasculitis and how to interpret the results.
- Match specific cutaneous manifestations with the various connective tissue diseases.
- Distinguish between gout and other crystalline-induced arthropathies and their respective treatments.
- Describe the appropriate use of synovial fluid analysis in the diagnosis of acute arthritis.
- Describe the current and emerging treatment options for giant cell arteritis.
- Recognize evidence-based recommendations for dosing urate-lowering therapies to optimize efficacy in patients with gout.
- Establish treatment plans for gout that achieve targeted levels of serum uric acid.
- Outline the current and emerging therapeutic options that target established and recognized pathways in the pathogenesis of ankylosing spondyloarthropathies.
- Describe the role of the microbiome in eliciting the immune response.
- Identify mechanisms by which the microbiome could cause rheumatic disease.
- Describe how myositis-specific autoantibodies define different types and subtypes of inflammatory myopathy.
- Develop strategies for managing patients with the different types of inflammatory myopathy.
- Describe current therapeutic approaches to symptomatic osteoarthritis.
- Review the diagnostic evaluation for osteopenia and osteoporosis.
- Identify how current and emerging agents might fit in the treatment strategy for osteoporosis.
- Compare and contrast the safety, efficacy, and mechanisms of various agents available for managing pain in the context of autoimmune disorders.
- Determine the optimal manner to incorporate non-pharmacological treatment of pain into clinical practice.
- Demonstrate awareness of current guidelines for management of psoriasis.
- Outline treatment plans for psoriasis that consider the use of current and new agents, and that include strategies for modifying treatment as needed based on results and patient satisfaction.
- Create a treatment plan for psoriatic arthritis that incorporates tools for assessing the impact of psoriatic arthritis and that anticipates the potential need to switch or augment therapy.
- Describe the safety and efficacy of available agents for psoriatic arthritis and develop a treatment strategy for patients with psoriatic arthritis.
- Design effective treatment strategies for the various manifestations of localized and systemic scleroderma including the management of lung disease.
- Develop a strategy for identifying and managing cutaneous adverse reactions.
- Summarize the diagnosis and management of different types of statin-related muscle complaints.
- Summarize current and emerging research on the mechanisms of the pathology of systemic lupus erythematosus and treatment of lupus nephritis.

Join us in September for Rheumatology News, Internal Medicine News & Family Practice News' 12th Annual Perspectives in Rheumatic Diseases CME/CE conference. We explore the latest advances in the treatment and management of rheumatic diseases.

This conference is an opportunity to catch up on new developments and practical solutions in this complex area of medicine. Leading experts will present clinically relevant information that you will find immediately useful in the care of your patients. Connections among rheumatoid arthritis, psoriatic arthritis, osteoarthritis, and psoriasis will be explored. Sessions will also focus on gout, lupus erythematosus, scleroderma, inflammatory disease, and dermatologic issues, as well as the management of pain that affects patients with rheumatic diseases. Don't miss our highly animated case sessions.

Interactive sessions offer attendees the chance to ask difficult questions and discuss patient-care options with the experts.

Two Afternoon Tracks on Friday, September 20

Friday breakout sessions will offer Rheumatology and Primary Care tracks.

Don't miss the 12th Annual Perspectives in Rheumatic Diseases Conference, September 20-21, 2019. The format is interactive, informal, and relaxed, encouraging a free-flowing exchange of ideas and practical solutions for the busy clinician.

We look forward to seeing you in Las Vegas in September.
