

PERIOPERATIVE MANAGEMENT OF THE CANCER PATIENT

April 19-20, 2018 | New York City

EXPANDED 2 DAY PROGRAM
HANDS-ON WORKSHOPS AND CASE DISCUSSIONS

Memorial Sloan Kettering
Cancer Center

PERIOPERATIVE MANAGEMENT OF THE CANCER PATIENT

The primary goal of this course is to educate healthcare professionals to new advances in the perioperative management of cancer patients through lectures, didactic discussions, and workshops. This course is intended for physicians, nurse anesthetists, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and other healthcare professionals who are involved in the care of oncology patients in the setting of surgery.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Identify Specific Concerns of the Cancer Patient
- Review Methods of Perioperative Pain Management
- Discuss the Role of an Enhanced Recovery Program
- Review Techniques for Management of the Difficult Airway
- Discuss Building an Ambulatory Cancer Surgery Program
- Use of ECHO as an Adjunct Monitoring Tool
- Discuss Goal Directed Fluid Therapy
- Review of Perioperative Venous Thrombosis
- Discuss Perioperative Complications such as Hemorrhage, Coagulopathy, and Arrhythmias

MSK COURSE DIRECTORS

Anahita
Dabo-Trubelja, MD

Eric
R. Kelhoffer, MD

WORKSHOP TOPICS

Transthoracic Echocardiography Regional:

- TAP Block
- Paravertebral Block, Pec Blocks
- Pediatric Regional

Lung Isolation Techniques Difficult Airway

CASE DISCUSSIONS

PONV: The MSK Approach
Goal Directed Fluid Therapy
Ethical Issues
Challenges of Sedation

REGISTER ONLINE

[www.mskcc.org/
perioperativecourse](http://www.mskcc.org/perioperativecourse)