HIGHLIGHTS & BENEFITS

Our Principal Instructors, Alan P. Agins, PhD and Jody F. Agins, MSN, RNP, FNP/GNP-BC, have designed a comprehensive course which addresses the pharmacology and therapeutic uses of current medications used for primary care, as well as common clinical issues and concerns related to prescribing to the adult population. Now in its 23rd year, "Pharmacology for Advanced Practice Clinicians," continues to be the "go-to" outpatient pharmacology course, whether you are applying for or renewing prescriptive authority or renewing your ANCC certification.

HIGHLIGHTS AND BENEFITS OF THIS COURSE INCLUDE:

- ▶ 7 days and up to 52.5 hours of pharmacology content, taught by a nationally-renowned "teaching" pharmacologist, together with experienced clinical faculty.
- ▶ A full-day Pediatric Pharmacology Preconference, focusing on medications and prescribing regimens specific to caring for children in the outpatient setting.
- ▶ The use of both didactic and case-based approaches allows you to meet the ANCC's new rules for re-certification as well as the requirements for prescriptive authority* in many states.
- ▶ California BRN Schedule II Controlled Substances educational requirements are included in the San Francisco and Las Vegas courses.

* States' requirements for prescriptive authority vary. Please contact your State Board of Nursing regarding educational requirements.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- ▶ Explain the pharmacodynamics and pharmacokinetics of drugs and select dietary supplements used to treat outpatient primary care conditions.
- ▶ Discuss pharmaceutical options and therapeutic regimens for maximizing effectiveness while minimizing adverse reactions, including monitoring of the patient's response.
- ▶ Demonstrate clinical application of the pharmacology content through case study discussion.
- ▶ Provide appropriate patient education regarding drug therapy.

CONFERENCE FACULTY

PRINCIPAL INSTRUCTORS

Dr. Alan P. Agins received a Masters in Pharmacology & Toxicology and a Ph.D. in Pharmaceutical Sciences from the University of Rhode Island. He has held faculty appointments at Brown University Medical School, Northeastern University School of Pharmacy and University of Virginia School of Nursing. During his tenure at Brown, Dr. Agins was the recipient of the Dean's Teaching Excellence Award for five consecutive years. Over the past twenty-two years, Dr. Agins has lectured nationally on all topics of pharmacology to more than 88,000 advanced practice clinicians and allied healthcare professionals. He has authored three books, co-authored textbook chapters and has served as primary reviewer for various journals, CE monographs, textbooks and newsletters, and has presented more than 300 live CE webinars to pharmacists for AMN Healthcare over the past 9 years. Dr. Agins recently developed and launched a continuing education website, Pharmacology One-on-One (pharm1on1.com) featuring engaging studio-produced, high def streaming videos on various pharmacology topics.

Jody F. Agins, MSN, RNP, FNP/GNP-BC received her MSN/Family Nurse Practitioner from the University of Kansas and is board certified by the ANCC in Family Practice and Gerontology. She is the founder & executive director, and practices as an NP, for Collaborative Medical Provider Group (PLLC), a consortium of private-practice clinicians in Tucson, Arizona. Jody is also the Clinical Services Director for Agape Hospice and Palliative Care and is a primary care provider for CareMore Touch also in Tucson. In addition, she serves as a clinical preceptor for Family and Geriatric Nurse Practitioner students at a number of universities in Arizona. Mrs. Agins is also invited to speak nationally on pain management, geriatric care and a number of other topics for various NP organizations. She is a faculty presenter for the Collaborative on REMS Education program on ER-LA Opioids through the Nurse Practitioner Healthcare Foundation.

The "take-home-message" that Dr. Agins and Mrs. Agins attempt to instill is to adopt a profound respect for, but also cautious attitude about drugs - what they can do ... and what their limitations are. After many years "on the road" and every conceivable pharmacology question from their audiences, they maintain their great sense of humor and wit, as well as a unique talent for breathing life into dry or difficult subject matter. Their goal is to make this course memorable, informative and enjoyable ... essentially the very best pharmacology CE experience for everyone who attends.
