PRECONFERENCE: INFECTIOUS DISEASE IN THE NICU

Infectious diseases continue to play a significant role in short-term and long-term morbidity for the critically ill neonate. Prevention is key! However, when infections do develop, it is essential to determine a treatment strategy using evidence-based medication strategies and appropriate monitoring. Bring your questions and cases and explore clinical applications of the knowledge shared by the expert faculty.

THIS PRECONFERENCE WILL ENABLE YOU TO:

- Describe how antibiotic stewardship principles can be applied in your units, and the challenge that antimicrobial resistance presents when treating neonatal infections.
- Identify antiviral medications that are effective in the treatment of congenital and neonatal viral infections, including CMV and Zika.
- Increase awareness of modes of transmission in the nursery, and how to avoid them.
- Apply knowledge of newborn infectious disease diagnosis and treatment into case study discussions.

- ▶ Have you worked in a collaborative partnership with other clinicians or organizations to make a positive impact on the health care of newborns?

If you answered "Yes" to any of these questions, your colleagues would love to hear more about it! Share your triumphs and achievements in a poster presentation at The Fetus & Newborn conference in Las Vegas. Accepted posters will be featured during all breaks in the Exhibit Hall on Thursday and Friday, November 9-10. The peer-reviewed poster presentations offer the perfect venue to network, exchange ideas, and improve the overall quality of care you provide for your patients.

Presenters will have their abstracts printed in the Conference Guide and will have the opportunity to share their innovations with colleagues at the meeting. All poster presenters must register for the Main Conference and will receive a $50 tuition discount on the full Main Conference Early Registration Fee. A discount code will be sent to you when Contemporary Forums receives a completed abstract submission meeting all the requirements listed on the Online Abstract Submission web page.

Poster applications from teams and individuals are welcome. Abstract submissions will open June 1 and close on September 11. To submit an abstract for a poster presentation, please go to <https://fetus17.exordo.com>.
