

Andaz Scottsdale Resort & Spa Enjoy a getaway with the mountains as your backdrop at Andaz Scottsdale Resort & Spa. With eclectic bungalows inspired by the desert landscape, unique dining, and a serene spa, you'll become rejuvenated in no time in Arizona's desert.

Drawing inspiration from the mid-century modern art and architecture movement, and the artists who used the desert as a creative landscape for expression, the resort pays homage to the mid-century artists, architects and designers including Alexander Girard, Frank Lloyd Wright, and Paolo Soleri. While at the resort, dine at two exciting restaurants, unwind at the poolside bar, or relax in the spa. You can also maintain your workout routine at the 24-hour fitness center. The Resort features three pools, one of which is located within the luxurious Palo Verde Spa & Apothecary, offering treatments and services in both indoor and outdoor settings. Unique to the resort is their partnership with the Cattle Track Arts Compound, a nearby community of artists, musicians and craftsman who share their talents and stories with guests. The resort is within walking distance of many well known Scottsdale/Paradise Valley restaurants and entertainment venues and is two miles north of the historic downtown Scottsdale and Scottsdale Fashion Square shopping destinations. The guestrooms are situated in unique bungalow clusters, each with an outdoor terrace and will provide guests with a unique and intimate desert experience.

COURSE DIRECTOR: Mark T. Murphy, MD, MSN Education, Austin, Texas, and Medical Director, Northwest Anesthesia Seminars, Pasco, Washington

TARGET AUDIENCE: This course is designed for physicians, certified registered nurse anesthetists, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, registered nurses and other medical care providers who must maintain state-of-the-art knowledge of the specialty or are impacted by it.

PROGRAM PURPOSE: The practitioner of anesthesiology must possess the scientific background for clinical practice; maintain state-of-the-art knowledge of not only the specialty, but also of all additional related disciplines which may impact it; maintain an up-to-the-minute armamentarium of knowledge and skills for the selection and use of complex equipment, pharmacological agents, and procedures necessary for the provision of quality patient care; manage self and colleagues to function toward common goals in the clinical setting, the clinical and educational institutions, and the community in which the practice resides; serve as an expert in matters involving health care delivery; serve as an informed manager of clinical and educational services provided, including the acquisition and distribution of resources necessary in meeting professional goals; and provide assistance with and support of other service providers, departments, institutions, and organizations dependent upon the professional expertise of the practitioner. Presentations are designed to facilitate the physician, nurse specialist, and other providers maintaining skills of the same kind to review and update knowledge and abilities in one or more of these areas vital to the practicing professional.

OBJECTIVES: At the conclusion of this activity, the participant will be able to:

Apply the pertinent physical and behavioral sciences—to include but not be limited to advanced anatomy and physiology, pathophysiology, chemistry, physics, psychology, and social sciences—as they impact and are affected by the planning, delivery, and monitoring of anesthesia and related services inherent in the anesthesia professions.

Explain the selection, dosing considerations with methods of administration, safe use, and contraindications and precautions of presented pharmacological agents through the understanding of their physicochemical properties, pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics, updated uses, and more recently developed additional, related, and similar drugs.

Outline comprehensive management plans for the group of patients discussed, whether related in age, physical status, cultural background, invasive procedure, anesthetic or analgesic requirements, clinical setting, adverse reactions, and/or goals of care.

Apply the principles of safety and asepsis in the performance of anesthetic procedures and administrations, equipment use, and other applications encountered during the provision of anesthesia and analgesia whether in the surgical unit, the labor and delivery suite, the pain management clinic, or other more remote location of anesthetizing services.

Incorporate the appropriate recommendations and/or requirements of pertinent external organizations, institutions, and professional groups—recognized as serving as the authority for and/or holding the responsibility to compile and approve such tenets—in the provision of anesthesia and related services, whether medical, legal, philosophical, ethical, or health care management standards.

Apply the new techniques in the clinical setting of the participant.
