Making Cancer History®

A Comprehensive Board Review in Hematology and Medical Oncology

Goal

The course is a 6-day comprehensive review of current standards and practices in the management of patients with blood disorders and malignancy. The course is designed to enable the participant to effectively prepare for the American Board of Internal Medicine certification and recertification examinations in Hematology and Medical Oncology. Advances in clinical pharmacology, molecular genetics and risk assessment, and radiation oncology will be included.

Educational Objectives

At the conclusion of this educational activity, participants should be able to

- Apply knowledge gained to prepare for the hematology and medical oncology subspecialty and recertification examinations in hematology and medical oncology (Knowledge, Competence);
- Utilize current standards of care for patients with cancer, blood disorders and malignancies (Knowledge, Competence, Performance);
- Demonstrate proficiency of knowledge in hematology and medical oncology (Knowledge, Competence, Performance);
- Incorporate recent advances in management of hematologic and oncologic patients (Knowledge, Competence, Performance); and
- Define molecular determinants of cancer risk and apply this knowledge in practice (Knowledge, Competence, Performance).

Target Audience

This program should be of interest to physicians, APNs, physician assistants and nurses.

Educational Methods

- Lectures
- Case-based Question-and-Answer Sessions (in board examination format)
- Syllabi (hard copy)
- A/V USB flash drive recording of conference proceeding. The A/V USB flash drive recording of conference proceedings will be mailed to all registered conference participants approximately 2 weeks after the conference.
- Sakai – an online course management system

Evaluation

A course evaluation form will provide participants with the opportunity to review each session and speaker, to identify future educational needs, and to comment on any perceived commercial bias in the presentations.

Accreditation/Credit Designation

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center and Baylor College of Medicine. The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center designates this live activity for a maximum of 48.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

CME Certificates and Attendance Verification Certificates

Certificates awarding AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ or certificates documenting attendance will be distributed to participants when an individual departs the conference. To obtain a CME certificate, physicians must submit a completed evaluation questionnaire and a CME Verification Form.

Upon request, a record of attendance (certificate) will be provided on-site to other health care professionals for requesting credits in accordance with state nursing boards, specialty societies, or other professional associations.

Theater District

Houston's downtown Theater District is second only to New York for the number of theater seats in a concentrated downtown area. It is also one of only five cities in the United States with permanent professional resident companies in all of the major performing arts disciplines of opera, ballet, music and theater.

You'll also find Bayou Place just around the corner which includes Sundance Cinemas, Revention Music Center, Hardrock Cafe and a variety of other restaurants. Family-favorite, Landry's Downtown Aquarium, is also located within a few blocks of each of the major theaters.

Please let us know what specific topics, issues, or questions you wish to see addressed or emphasized in this activity. Fax or e-mail CME/Conference Management. All responses will be forwarded to the Program Chairs for consideration.

The following will be playing at the time of the meeting:

Houston Symphony – Jones Hall

Mahler Symphony No. 1 – Friday, September 23rd and Sunday, September 25th at 8:00 pm

Meet the winner of the Houston Symphony's first Young Composer Competition, and hear the music of tomorrow with a performance of the winning piece. Then, Mahler's titanic Symphony No. 1 takes listeners from the lyrical purity of nature to the epic struggle and triumph of the earth-shattering finale, reflecting Mahler's belief that "a symphony must be like the world: it must embrace everything."

Houston Ballet – Wortham Theater Center

Madame Butterfly – Thursday, September 22nd and Saturday, September 24th at 7:30 pm

A signature work for Houston Ballet Artistic Director Stanton Welch since its creation in 1995, Madame Butterfly depicts the story of a beautiful Japanese geisha who gives up her faith and her family to marry an American naval lieutenant. Set to Puccini's powerful score with exquisite costumes and sets by Peter Farmer, Stanton Welch's Madame Butterfly is a stunning achievement in neoclassical ballet that has been an international success, with performances on three continents. Opening the program is Welch's Son of Chamber Symphony, a deconstruction of classical ballet set to music by John Adams.

David Parsons Dance – Friday, September 23, 2016 at 8:00 pm

With more than three decades since its founding, Parsons Dance has won over audiences across the globe with its contemporary American dance that is accessible and enriching to a wide array of audiences. Started by the legendary David Parsons in 1985 in New York City, Parsons Dance is known for its energetic, athletic, ensemble work, featuring collaborations with iconic artists as diverse as Allen Toussaint and Billy Taylor to Donna Karan and Annie Leibovitz. Called "one of modern dance's great living dance-makers" by New York Magazine, the company continues to pursue its mission to deliver positive, affirming, life-enriching experiences to audiences worldwide, with a repertory of over 75 works by David Parsons, as well as an ever-growing list of his new work. In addition, Parsons Dance works with established choreographers to restage works from the American canon as well as commissioning up-and-coming choreographers to create entirely new works. This seminal American dance company makes its return to Houston.

Attractions

Sam Houston Race Park – Live thoroughbred racing will keep you on the edge of your seat at Sam Houston Race Park. Exciting live horse racing, eight bars, two restaurants and the best music under the stars. Find out why Sam Houston Race Park is the place to be for live entertainment! Racing is at 7:00 pm Thursday/Friday and at 5:00 pm on Saturday. For more details visit www.shrp.com or call 281-807-8700.

Kemah Boardwalk – A waterfront getaway just 20 miles from downtown Houston. In addition to the many restaurants, a major attraction is the 50,000-gallon aquarium that gives Aquarium Restaurant its name. Guests to the boardwalk also enjoy shopping, games and rides. For more information, check out www.kemahboardwalk.com

Galveston Island – South of Houston is Galveston, an island rich in history. The Strand Historic District is a twenty-six square block area of shopping, dining and art galleries. Within the Strand District, one will find Moody Mansion, Ashton Villa and the Bishop's Palace—opulent, historic Victorian homes of the late 1800's.

Also found on Galveston Island, Moody Gardens is an experience like no other. The Rainforest Pyramid is lush with exotic plants, birds and fish, while the Aquarium Pyramid will submerge visitors into the beauty of ocean life. Visit www.galveston.com to learn more about what the island has to offer.

Space Center Houston – is the official visitor's center of NASA's Johnson Space Center. Learn about the history and future of space exploration through the center's interactive exhibits. Learn more at www.spacecenter.org

Shopping Guide

Everything is bigger in Texas and shopping in Houston is no different. From chic boutiques to quaint gift shops, upscale department stores to bargain outlets; chances are you will find it here

Rice Village – One of the oldest shopping areas in town, Village Arcade in Rice Village is a great mix of classic stores and unique boutiques. Located near Rice University and the Texas Medical Center, the Village offers shoppers an eclectic experience. Get a sneak peek at ricevillageonline.com

The Galleria – is the number one shopping destination in Houston with more than 375 stores and restaurants, two hotels and an ice rink. Fashion icons such as Louis Vuitton, Gucci and Tiffany & Co. are showcased here next to everyday favorites like Gap and Macy’s. Need a break? Take a seat and watch the ice skaters twirl. Visit simon.com/ mall to learn more about what you’ll find (or won’t find) in the Galleria.

Harwin Drive – Looking for basement bargains? Head over to Harwin Drive in West Houston. Warehouse stores sell leather goods (some real and some faux), jewelry, clothing and other accessories. The area is similar to New York’s Orchard Street with must-have items at unbeatable prices.

Dining Guide

Houstonians eat out more than residents of any other city and it’s no wonder why. Houston is home to more than 11,000 restaurants and some of the best can be found in the downtown scene.

For a listing of the best restaurants in Houston go to www.zagat.com/houston.

The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center has implemented a process whereby every-one who is in a position to control the content of an educational activity must disclose all relevant financial relationships with any commercial interest that could potentially affect the information presented.

MD Anderson also requires that all faculty disclose any unlabeled use or investigational use (not yet approved for any purpose) of pharmaceutical and medical device products. Specific disclosure will be made to the participants prior to the educational activity.

Agendas are subject to change because we are always striving to improve the quality of your educational experience. MD Anderson may substitute faculty with comparable expertise on rare occasions necessitated by illness, scheduling conflicts, and so forth.
