Baby Friendly: Not Just about Hospitals or the Baby-Friendly Hospital Initiative!

This year's conference theme is
Celebrating Baby Friendly in the Hospital and Beyond: Helping Families Thrive Worldwide.

Baby-friendly practices are those that support and promote breastfeeding—in all settings and stages—through the incorporation of the Ten Steps to Successful Breastfeeding. This year's conference celebrates these practices in hospitals, in clinics and physician offices, and throughout the family's community. The conference will conclude with a panel discussion on how the Ten Steps fit together in various settings and what the future holds.

LEAC Global Forum

Equitable Access to IBCLC Certification: Where Do We Go From Here?

Substantial roadblocks to attaining IBCLC certification exist worldwide, including challenges related to language, education, and systems of oppression. This forum will provide an overview of those barriers, the history of work conducted by individuals and organizations during the last 2 years, and resources and opportunities for finding solutions. Organized by the Lactation Equity Action Committee, an independent group addressing inequity in access to IBCLC certification. Participants will receive continuing education units.
