The Congress of Medical Excellence 2.0

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

We cordially invite you to attend the Congress of Medical Excellence 2.0, sponsored by the American Osteopathic Society of Rheumatic Diseases and the Integrative Health Alliance. On Friday, February 28, 2020, at 8 A.M. and continuing through Sunday, March 1, 2020, at the Peppermill Spa and Casino in Reno, Nevada, the AOSRD will convene its' 48th annual conference.

We look forward to your participation in our upcoming event.

An outstanding program with an impressive schedule of presentations awaits our participants. Registered participants can attend and interact with Dr. A.J. Farshchian, the President and Founder of the American Association of Stem Cell Physicians, Dr. Danial Royal presenting alternative medicine and the Native American experience, Doctors Jon and Gretchen Marsh, Dr. Jerel Glassman as well as our resident rheumatologists, Drs. Robert Speer and Richard Renza.

We anticipate 20 hours of didactics covering basic and advanced concepts in Rheumatology, Traumatic Brain Injury care, lipidology, and opioid recovery.

We are pleased to sponsor the American Osteopathic Association's CORE RE'MS, "Pain Management and Opioids: Balancing Risks and Benefits." This satisfies most state board of medicine's core requirement in opioid education. CORE RE'MS lectures are free and open to the public.

Just a short ride from Lake Tahoe, the Peppermill Spa and Casino is the top-rated resort in Northern Nevada.

A continental breakfast is offered each morning before sessions and continues throughout the day. We anticipate a non-CME lunch on Friday, and we will participate in a medically themed murder mystery dinner Saturday night.

Our reasonably priced registration fee, $20 per CME Credit! and to stay at the Peppermill, we have arranged a below-market room price.

CONFERENCE INFORMATION

OBJECTIVES

Designed for practicing physicians, students, nurse practitioners, nurses, physical and occupational therapists, and physician assistants interested in autoimmune and rheumatic disease issues, integrative, holistic, and osteopathic medicine, those interested in the latest research in lipidology, and new concepts in the diagnosis of, and treatment of traumatic brain injury.

Lecture material is intended to meet the needs of physicians in clinical practice for up-to-date information on the latest techniques in general and specialty areas and to provide a means for physicians, researchers and students to gather, share ideas and report the results of their research.

ACCREDITATION

The American Osteopathic Society of Rheumatic Diseases is accredited by the Council on Osteopathic Continuing Medical Education (COCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The AOSRD designates this live activity for a maximum of 24.0 AOA Category 1 CME credits.

We look forward to seeing you in Reno. Sincerely yours,

William Clearfield DO

John Burgess DO
