Common Medications in the Dental Practice

Speaker: Michael Bundy, DMD

With an array of medication on the market today, dentists should be aware of what is commonly being used and will be most appropriate to provide the best care for their patient. Not only is it important for dentists to be aware of the medications, but they must also know of their functions and impact of care for our patients.

Michael Bundy, DMD – Dr. Michael Bundy attended Florida A&M where he received his PhamD from the College of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences. He then went on to attend Harvard School of Dental Medicine. He completed his Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery residency at UCLA, where he also attended medical school. Currently, Dr. Bundy works in the Maxillofacial Surgery department at Kaiser Permanente in Los Angeles and also lectures at UCLA School of Dentistry.
