Technical Workshop in Advanced Therapies

Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center is pleased to announce the Interventional Cancer Pain Symposium 2018: Technical Workshop in Advanced Therapies (ICPS 2018). This symposium will include an advanced therapies workshop for pain practitioners to learn state of the art techniques in interventional pain medicine. We will emphasize paradigm strategies for cancer pain syndromes and provide a fluoroscopic and ultrasound based workshop for attendees. Additionally, this year we will have an enlarged rehabilitation and radiology section along with our neurosurgery, interventional pain, and interventional radiology course.
