Challenger also has so much to offer beyond the conference! Courses are designed to prepare physicians and other clinicians in the latest standard-of-care. Challenger's comprehensive curriculum prepares you for certification, recertification, and maintenance of certification, continuous competency testing and fulfillment of CME requirements. CME Credit

This educational activity is sponsored by the American College of Osteopathic Emergency Physicians (ACOEP). ACOEP is an approved provider of AOA Category 1A CME credit. ACOEP has requested that the AOA Council on Continuing Medical Education approve this program for 42 AOA Category 1A CME credits. Approval is currently pending.

Course Objective

ACOEP's Written Board Prep: An Intense Review provides a review of clinical problems encountered in the daily practice of emergency medicine, and assists physicians in their preparation to take the certification or recertification examination in emergency medicine. Each lecture is designed to add to participants' knowledge base, and to provide guidance in emergency department management. While the course is comprehensive, emphasis placed on each subject is commensurate with the published guidelines of the American Osteopathic Board of Emergency Medicine.

Program Format

Attendees will have the opportunity to pick up course materials in advance on January 13 from 3:00 – 5:00 p.m. Materials will also be available for pick up each morning during breakfast, which is provided daily. Lectures begin early on January 14, at 6:45 a.m. The remainder of the week, lectures begin at 7:30 a.m., and end between 5:00 and 6:00 p.m. The last lecture on Monday will end at approximately 2:15 p.m.

The course includes all topics listed in the ACOEP's Core Curriculum for Emergency Medicine. Some topics will be covered in written format only. Speakers will place emphasis on topics listed as High (H) and Moderate (M) emphasis in the Core Curriculum. A case-based review of EKG's will also be provided. The Visual Stimulus Review will be on display Thursday through Monday. Attendees will have the opportunity to participate in this optional question and answer photo case review. The Visual Stimulus will also be available on an in-house hotel channel 24 hours a day for attendees staying at the Westin River North. Participants who attest to reviewing all cases will receive two-hours of additional CME credit.

Syllabus Material

Participants will receive their syllabus material in a paper binder format consisting of approximately 1,000 pages of printed material. For an additional fee of $100 attendees can also purchase a flash drive that contains the syllabus in a digital format. Please note that the flash drive does NOT have note-taking capability. ACOEP will provide power strips in the general session room. The syllabus will only be available for pick-up on-site.

Program registrations received after January 1st are NOT guaranteed a paper syllabus. In the event that paper materials are no longer available, a flash drive will be provided.

Can't Make the Course?

ACOEP has a solution for you, too. We know that not everyone can take five days off from practice, but you can purchase the syllabus for $250 and receive the same information the attendees do.

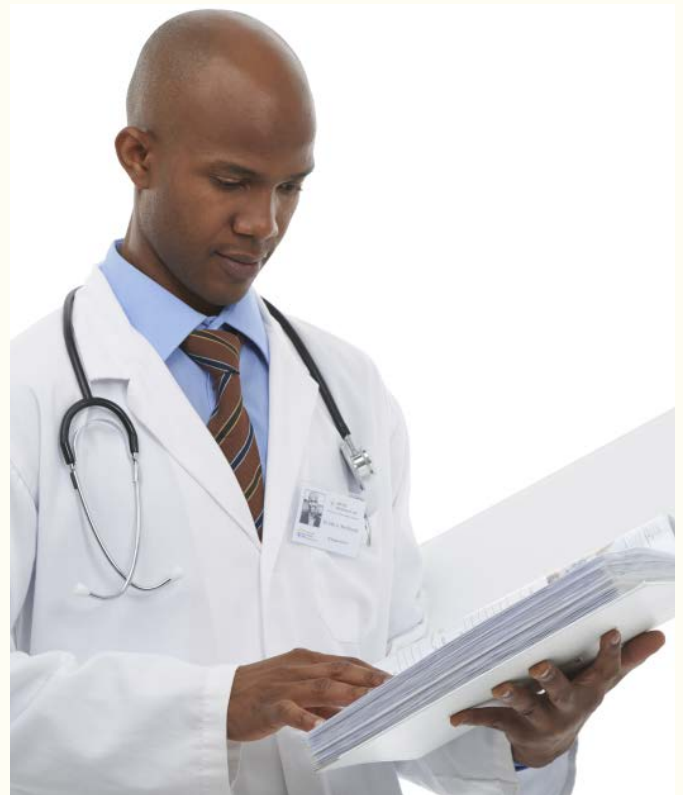

Mailed in late January, the syllabus will contain any extra material, pearls or study information supplied by speakers.

After the conclusion of the conference, attendees can expect complimentary to lecture recordings of the Written Board Prep Course in the ACOEP Digital Classroom. Anyone unable to attend can purchase lectures individually as they become available. For more information, visit www.acoep.org/classroom.

Purchase of the syllabus does not grant any CME hours. Lecture recordings are eligible for Category 1B Credit, however these credits are only available to individuals who did not apply for 1A Credit for attendance.

Disclosure of Course Faculty and Commercial/Industry Relationships

In accordance with ACOEP policy, all faculty members and planning committee members have been asked to sign a disclosure agreement stating any commercial, financial, or other relationships within the medical and emergency medicine industry relative to topics on which they lecture in this educational program. At the beginning of each faculty member's program, faculty members are expected to disclose such information to participants, and have been recommended to do so by ACOEP. These disclosures allow for the best possible objectivity in the content and preparation of each lecture, and allow you to better evaluate each faculty member. If you perceive any undisclosed conflict of interest during a lecture or faculty session, please contact ACOEP staff immediately or make note in the speaker evaluation.

A Message from the Course Chair

As emergency physicians we constantly strive to improve. The status quo is never good enough; we search for new ways to advance care, opportunities for innovation, and to pioneer life-saving techniques. ACOEP is dedicated to this principle, never allowing inertia to slow progress.

It is this commitment to the advancement of emergency medicine that has lead us to improve our already popular Intense Review, now ACOEP's Written Board Prep.

Attendees can expect a jolt of energy infusing every aspect of the conference. The lecture hall will buzz with vital topics, exam pearls, and new momentum through live polls during didactic lectures, interactive Q&A sessions, and more detailed lecture materials.

Opportunities extend well beyond the lecture hall this year. A new "Ask the Expert" station gives you the chance to speak with faculty one-on-one, asking questions, clarifying difficult concepts, and ensuring you have the personalized review that you need. An updated visual stimulus, and pre and post test provided by Challenger Corp makes this a well-rounded course, tackling every aspect of the Boards. Attendees also have free access to recordings of the lectures via ACOEP's new Digital Classroom after the course,, giving you the ability to revisit complex concepts and to brush up immediately before the exam.

Five days of intense study is a marathon requiring stamina and determination, and ACOEP is committed to supporting you every step along the way. This year new lounge areas give you the space you need to relax and recharge. Healthy snacks during breaks deliver fortitude, and the extra boost you need to stay alert. We will also have some fun areas and surprises where you can let off some steam and get your blood flowing.

What hasn't changed? Every didactic lecture is a thorough examination of specific topics vital to your daily practice. The faculty is made up of respected and renowned physicians, each carefully selected. Attendees also add up to 42 hours of category 1A CME Credit at the beginning of a new CME Cycle.

We are so confident that the Written Board Prep will give you everything you need to conquer Part I - Written Boards, that we are proud to offer a Pass Guarantee. We firmly believe every attendee will pass their Boards, however anyone who does not pass is invited back to attend the 2017 Written Board Prep at no cost.

I hope that you will join us in Chicago this January to explore what has made this conference so successful in the past, and what's making it better than ever!
