Medication Safety
Conference 2016

Supported by:

INTERNATIONAL
MEDICATION
SAFETY NETWORK

Be part of the most attended medication safety learning platform in the region this November at the 9th Medication Safety Conference, which is expected to attract over 1,200 delegates. We will once again strive to deliver to healthcare professionals exceptional continuing medical education and latest updates in medication safety and pharmacy best practices.

The conference will continue to provide you the opportunity to choose from two parallel educational streams focused on medication safety alongside the pharmacy practice sessions concurrently.

Submit your Abstract Now!

The 9th Medication Safety Conference 2016 scientific committee is accepting abstracts on the ever-evolving field of medication safety and pharmacy practice. These can be submitted for consideration for an oral or poster presentation: www.medicationsafetyconference.com/submit_abstracts.

All successful submissions will be published in the conference book, distributed to all delegates, as well as on the event website. Presenting authors must register for the conference before 10th of October 2016.
