Dr. Anderson presents

ADVANCED
INTEGRATIVE ONCOLOGY

This CME event will focus on the clinical management of patients desiring integrative and naturopathic oncology care. Specific information regarding care of patients during active chemotherapies and radiation as well as recovery from those interventions will be covered. Integrative strategies for any patient with cancer using nutrigenomic assessment, dietary intervention and natural therapies will also be covered. AAMP will also have four cancer specific modules on the most common cancers seen in practice (breast, prostate, lung, and colon) given by experts in those areas.

September 24th - 26th, 2021

AMONG THE SPEAKERS JOINING DR. ANDERSON:

Donald Abrams, M.D.

Dr. Abrams provides integrative medicine consultations to people living with and beyond cancer at the Osher Center, with an emphasis on nutrition and cancer. He is also a general oncologist at Zuckerberg San Francisco General Hospital and Trauma Center. He was the president of the Society for Integrative Oncology in 2010 and has been a member of various education sub-committees of the American Society of Clinical Oncology. He coedited the Oxford University Press textbook "Integrative Oncology" with Andrew Weil, MD. He was also named a "Top Cancer Doctor" in Newsweek's 2015 Special Health Issue on Curing Cancer, in the category of Medical Oncology.

Lisa Price, N.D.

An expert in complementary cancer care, and culinary nutrition during cancer treatment through survivorship. She guides patients in finding the best foods and supplementation that reduce short- and long-term side effects, as well as advising on which supplements and foods to avoid. A National Institute of Health (NIH), National Center for Complementary and Alternative Medicine Research Fellow (2005-2010), she is also an author, radio host, lecturer, and an adjunct faculty member at Bastyr University. She studied microbial biochemistry as an undergraduate and as a Master of Science student in New York, and graduated from the prestigious Bastyr University in 1998, with honors in counseling. She taught a variety of clinical and academic courses including biochemistry to Master of Science candidates in Nutrition from 2012 to 2015.

Geo Espinosa, N.D., L.Ac.

A recognized authority in holistic urology and men's health. He is Clinical Assistant Professor and holistic clinician in Urology at New York University Langone Medical Center. As an avid researcher and writer, Dr. Geo has authored numerous scientific papers and books including co-editing the Integrative Sexual Health book, and author of the bestselling prostate cancer book: Thrive, Don't Only Survive. Dr. Geo is the Chief Medical Officer (CMO) and formulator at XY Wellness, LLC, and lectures internationally on the application of science-based holistic treatments in urological clinics. On his free time, he enjoys writing on his popular blog, DrGeo.com, spending time with his wife and three kids and practicing the Israeli martial art, Krav Maga.

Lucas Tims, N.D., FABNO

Throughout Dr. Lucas' 8 years of practice, he has provided Integrative Medicine support for thousands of cancer patients at multiple CTCA hospitals and clinics. As a board-certified, Naturopathic Oncologist, Dr. Lucas is an expert in how to utilize natural therapies to support patients during any phase of treatment or care setting. In early 2018, Dr.

Lucas was appointed to a leadership role serving as Medical Director of Integrative Oncology at CTCA's Western Regional Medical Center. In 2013, he passed his specialty boards designating him as a Fellow of the American Board of Naturopathic Oncology (FABNO). In addition to patient care, Dr. Lucas enjoys doing research, teaching and writing for medical journals. Originally from Northwest Arkansas, Dr. Lucas (as he is known to his patients) is a graduate of the University of Arkansas, where he majored in microbiology.

AAMP is designed to give the practitioner both advanced clinical tools and advanced applications for the clinical tools they already have, to effectively treat patients with chronic illness.
