

CDA ANNUAL SESSION
CRESTED BUTTE, CO
JUNE 7-10, 2018

It's a Butte!

If you haven't been to Crested Butte, Colo., I highly recommend it. And I have the perfect excuse for you to visit this incredible mountain town—come to the CDA Annual Session! This gorgeous ski town is laid back, friendly and full of things to do in the summer. Hiking, biking, eating, drinking, mini-golfing, real golfing, exploring, fishing, camping, rafting and shopping—it's all here.

We have an incredible meeting planned this year with keynote speaker Austin Eubanks—a Columbine shooting survivor and recovering addict. He is such a powerful speaker and you won't want to miss it. We're also hosting nationally known speakers so you can earn CE and enhance your dental knowledge. Be sure to check out the lineup on the following pages.

The House of Delegates has a slate of business this year addressing governance and future direction.

And, of course, it wouldn't be my meeting without ample opportunity to eat, drink and play. Don't miss the CDA Foundation Biergarten complete with great beer to try and food to eat. And for the new dentists at the meeting, the NDC after party will follow just a couple steps away. Speaking of which, we'll be offering another way to get steps during the family 5K fun run/walk.

Lastly, I welcome the Colorado Academy of Pediatric Dentistry members to Annual Session. CAPD is having their meeting and speakers in conjunction with the CDA Annual Session this year.

Don't miss this meeting. Register today: cdaonline.org/annualsession.

Dr. Carol Morrow
CDA President

Keynote Speaker: Austin Eubanks

Friday, June 8, 2018, 8-9 a.m.

Sponsored By: The CDA Foundation and Dentists' Professional Liability Trust

Austin Eubanks is a nationally recognized speaker on topics surrounding behavioral health and addiction recovery. He is the chief operations officer for Foundry Treatment Center, on the board of Stout Street Foundation, a member of the founding board of 5280 High School, and a featured member of Speakers for Change.

An injured survivor of the Columbine High School shooting, Austin's traumatic experience as a teen was the catalyst to his painful journey through addiction. Now in long-term recovery, he has devoted his career to helping those who have turned to substances as a result of trauma. Austin has spoken to hundreds of thousands across the nation regarding his personal journey as well as strategies for addressing the issues of opioid abuse plaguing the nation.

At the Foundry Treatment Center, Austin directs a multi-phase, nationally accredited treatment program overseeing a team of more than 36 care professionals. Leading both program management and business development, his approach bridges the gap between the administrative and clinical functions to provide superior care and achieve optimal business performance.

In his nonprofit board roles, Austin helps to advance the objectives of Stout Street Foundation, a 180-bed therapeutic community serving primarily an indigent population, and 5280 High School, a 400-student Denver Public Charter School focused on prevention and addiction recovery in adolescents—Denver's first and only public recovery high school.

Austin was previously the director of operations for NorthStar Transitions, a young-adult, transitional treatment program in Boulder, working with college age men and women transitioning from residential treatment to independent living, and executive director of Quiet River Transitional Recovery Community, a luxury transitional treatment program in Denver, focusing on lifestyle reintegration for professionals in recovery.

When Austin isn't working, speaking, or helping others, you can find him exploring the waters of Northwest Colorado with his fly rod and spending time with his two sons, Caden and Landon.

Changing Family Dynamics: The Influence of Society and Parenting Styles on Behavior Guidance

Presented by Clarice Law, D.M.D., M.S.

Saturday, June 9, 2018, 9 a.m.-noon

CE Credit Hours: 3

Sponsored By: The Colorado Academy of Pediatric Dentistry

Course Synopsis:

Numerous social changes have impacted contemporary family life. This, in turn, has influenced how children behave in the dental setting, as well as how parents react to various behavior guidance techniques. Techniques once used routinely are no longer included in the behavior guidance guidelines because of opposition by parents and shifts in social acceptability. Despite the exclusion of a number of techniques, few new techniques have been added to the guidelines or validated in the pediatric literature.

Learning Objectives:

- Understand the traditional methods of classifying child behavior and the current techniques described in the AAPD guidelines.
- Determine the influence of parenting style on child behavior and on the acceptability of behavior guidance techniques.
- Learn some of the newer findings regarding child behavior and draw from mass market publications, including the popular Love and Logic and Whole Brain Child systems.
- Recognize how we might expand our repertoire of socially acceptable behavior guidance techniques.

About the Speaker: Clarice Law, D.M.D., M.S., is an associate clinical professor in the Sections of Pediatric Dentistry and Orthodontics in the Division of Growth and Development, UCLA School of Dentistry. Dr. Law received her D.M.D. from Harvard School of Dental Medicine and completed specialty training in pediatric dentistry and orthodontics at UCLA School of Dentistry. She teaches both disciplines to dental students and residents and is the chair of the Growth, Development, and Aging curriculum track, which focuses on teaching biopsychosocial changes in individuals throughout the stages of life.

Clinical Pearls for Treating Older Patients: Techniques for the Entire Dental Team

Presented by Randy Huffines, D.D.S.

Saturday, June 9, 2018, 9 a.m.-noon

CE Credit Hours: 3

Course Synopsis:

Seniors are the fastest growing patient demographic in the U.S. Providing quality dental care for them is rewarding but also challenging due to an array of complex dental and medical conditions. Root caries is a common and frustrating clinical problem requiring unique preventive and restorative techniques. Older patients were excluded in the classic periodontal treatment studies, which have led to many myths about periodontal health and aging. Although most seniors are no longer edentulous, there is still a tremendous need for esthetic and functional conventional and implant supported prostheses.

Learning Objectives:

- Learn practical techniques you can immediately use in your practice.
- Understand how to avoid misunderstandings with patients who have visual and/or hearing impairment.
- Learn how to alter “normal” dental treatment to assure a successful outcome when medical conditions such as stroke, cardiovascular disease and Alzheimer’s are involved.

About the Speaker: For over 35 years, Randy Huffines, D.D.S., FRCSEd, has treated older and medically complex adults in a traditional private practice, nursing homes and hospitals. He left practice in 1988 to complete a two-year clinical fellowship in geriatric dentistry. For 27 years, he was the director of geriatric dentistry at the Quillen Medical Center in Johnson City, TN. Dr. Huffines has faculty appointments in colleges of dentistry, medicine, nursing, and allied health. He is a past president and a fellow of the American Society for Geriatric Dentistry, fellow of the American Association of Hospital Dentists, and diplomate of the American Board Special Care Dentistry. He is a fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh, Scotland with a membership in special needs dentistry.
