ACCREDITATION

TARGET AUDIENCE

Orthopaedic surgeons and allied healthcare professionals who are seeking timely, practical advice on techniques and technologies for performing hip and knee replacement procedures; strategies for optimizing patient surgery perioperatively; and updates on how the changing healthcare environment affects their practice.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Discuss potential advantages, disadvantages, implementation strategies, and techniques for outpatient total joint arthroplasty.
- Identify and compare different THA and TKA surgical techniques as well as joint preservation options for the hip joint.
- Identify considerations for pre- and post-operative care to support optimal patient outcomes and reduce length of stay for hip and knee joint replacement procedures, including pain management and other supportive care strategies.
- Evaluate and compare different options for the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of infection.
- Review challenges faced and potential strategies to address practice efficiency and patient management issues faced by today's orthopaedic surgeon.
- Identify, assess, and compare surgical approaches, tools, and techniques for THA and TKA procedures.
- Assess and evaluate the perioperative issues and potential complications associated with THA and TKA.
- Review and discuss current economic and legal trends in healthcare and their potential effects on total-joint surgeons' practices.
- Identify strategies and techniques for the prevention of complications and evaluate solutions if complications associated with TKA and THA occur.
