Target Audience

The course is designed for all radiologists.
Sessions are pitched at a level suitable for the consultant radiologist and are pitched at a post-FRCR level.

About the Course

- ✓ For all consultant radiologists. More and more consultant radiologists are now required to be on call. This new Infomed course provides a practical and comprehensive review of the more challenging cases faced by the on-call radiologist with an emphasis on CT. Some rare but challenging cases will also be included.
- ✓ The Course Faculty. An outstanding faculty of senior and young consultant radiologists, and senior STs, all with four or more years of on-call experience, and experienced also in disseminating skills and practical knowledge to peers.
- ✓ Sessions over two days. These include: Acute Chest; Aortic and Vascular; Abdo Solid Organ; Bowel and Pelvis; Neuroradiology; and Paediatrics; and Musculoskeletal.
- ✓ Practical. Case by case tasked-based learning, workstation-based and interactive, covering a full range of on-call imaging topics, with challenging cases
- ✓ Workstation-based interactive learning:
 - workstation based-learning (OsiriX on iMac)
 - with delegates working in pairs for interactive learning; and
 - reporting 'check lists' and guidance what to look for and why, top tips and common errors to avoid, practical feedback, highlighting specific learning points
