CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION

August 28 – Venice, Italy

The “City of Light” stretches across an archipelago of 122 islands in the Venetian Lagoon along the Adriatic Sea. Connected by 400 bridges, 150 canals serve the function of roads. Venice is Europe’s largest urban car-free area. While gondolas are reserved for special ceremonies, most Venetians now travel by motorized waterbuses (“vaporetti”). St. Mark’s Square is Venice’s heart with palatial arcades and charming cafés. Tour the exquisite Doge’s Palace, once home to the dukes of Venice. Shop for exquisite Venetian glass, or sip a bicerin at timeless Caffé Florian.

August 29 – At Sea
August 30 – Katakolon, Greece

Katakolon is a small port on the Ionian Sea coast of the Peloponnese Peninsula. While Katakolon’s main street is just a five-minute walk from the pier, you will probably want to venture farther out to see the ancient site of Olympia, the storied place where the Olympic Games originated in 776 BC. Katakolon is also home to monuments including the Temple of Zeus, the Temple of Hera, and the famous stadium.

August 31 – Santorini, Greece

The harbor on this island was created by a volcano in 1,500 BC and the effect is still explosive; 1,000 foot-high cliffs rise from sea level and dazzling white houses cling to the cliffs. Santorini offers a wealth of scenery. Visit the Mountain of Prophet Elias 2,000 feet above sea level offering panoramic views of the island. From the caldera viewpoint, you can see how Santorini’s three islands form a crater rim left by a massive eruption in 1,600 BC. Travel to Kamari fishing village, once the ancient port of Thera, famed for its dramatic black sand beach. Don’t miss Fira, Santorini’s largest town. Here you will see whitewashed houses that cling to steep volcanic cliffs. Accessible only by foot, Fira’s narrow cobblestone lanes lead uphill past shops, homes, and cafes.

September 1-2 – Athens (Piraeus), Greece

Piraeus is your gateway to the wonders of Athens, including Constitution Square, the Acropolis, Hadrian’s Arch, the Olympic Stadium, and more. The remains of ancient Athens constitute one of the brightest jewels of the Mediterranean— a city that has stood for more than 25 centuries. Ancient Athens was a powerful city-state. A center for the arts, learning, and philosophy, Athens was the home of Plato’s Academy and Aristotle’s Lyceum and also the birthplace of Socrates, Pericles, Sophocles, and many other prominent philosophers, politicians, and writers of the ancient world.

September 3 – Mykonos, Greece

Mykonos Town (Chora) is a stunningly picturesque Cycladic town with a maze of tiny streets and whitewashed steps, lanes, houses and churches, gathered around its harbour in the middle of a wide bay. It is one of the most cosmopolitan and crowded towns of the Aegean. Although the streets are lined with little shops, boutiques, art galleries, cafes, stylish bars and restaurants, Mykonos Town has not completely lost its identity. Despite the island’s rapid growth and development, it’s traditional Cycladic architectural style and character has remained firmly intact, thanks to the island’s strict building regulations.

September 4 – At Sea
September 5 – Corfu, Greece

The majestic Venetian Old Fortress flanks your entrance to this most beautiful of the Ionians. Lose yourself in Corfu’s Old Town, dotted with whitewashed houses, Byzantine churches, cafes, shops, and galleries. Grab an ice-cream from a local gelateria while browsing for souvenirs of precious jewelry and local art. In the early evening, get lost along narrow streets filled with street performers and merchants peddling their wares.
