Host City- Dubai, United Arab Emirates

The Emirate of Dubai is the second biggest of the seven United Arab Emirates however has the biggest populace with over 3.33 million occupants as of Sept.2019. Dubai's cityscape is consistently transient and always showing signs of change with its steady inclination to build greater and better than anyone might have expected. In the event that there was a Palm Island, Nakheel thought about the World Island. Burj Al Arab was obscured when Burj Khalifa sprung up.

Once a small fishing village in the Arabian Gulf, Dubai is today perhaps the most cosmopolitan urban communities on the planet. One of the seven emirates that make up the United Arab Emirates, Dubai is home to almost 200 ethnicities and offers a really paramount encounter to all guests. Regardless of whether it is by the banks of the Creek, or at the highest point of the Burj Khalifa, the world's tallest structure, Dubai lives and inhales a feeling of plausibility and development. Also, with an unmatched coastline, wonderful desert, and radiant cityscapes, recollections are simply holding back to be made here. Dubai continually rivals itself, attempting to charge travelers to a fantasy like universe of attractions. This drive is plainly noticeable in its tourist spots, strip malls, parks, and inns. In spite of the fact that it carefully protects its customary Islamic roots, it permits space for different religions, an uncommon quality in the traditionalist Arab world. Fortunately, it has been effective in protecting itself from fanaticism, making it probably the most secure spot to visit in the Middle East. Dubai has arisen as a cosmopolitan city that has developed consistently to turn into a worldwide blend just as a business and social center.
