ASGE Postgraduate Course

Endoscopy in Evolution: Changing Everyday Practice

Friday, October 11, 2013

*Held in conjunction with the American College of Gastroenterology
78th Annual Scientific Meeting*

Course Description

This course is designed to highlight the state-of-the-art endoscopic management of patients with gastrointestinal diseases. The course has been broken down into 6 main categories, and through didactics and cases with video, world-renowned experts will discuss current techniques and management of common diseases as well as new technologies available to the endoscopist. Topics to be covered include new techniques for performing colonoscopy, and large colonic polyp resection, various ERCP cannulation techniques and management of stones, strictures and bile duct cancers, management of Barrett's esophagus, gastrointestinal bleeding management techniques, advanced imaging in the gastrointestinal tract and cutting edge techniques for the management of early cancers and achalasia.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this educational activity, physicians will be able to:

- Determine when to apply ablative or mucosal resection techniques in the management of dysplastic Barrett's esophagus
- Incorporate the latest and most cost-effective algorithm in the management of gastrointestinal bleeding
- Implement new modalities in the treatment and identification of eosinophilic esophagitis
- Recognize and apply evolving endoscopic techniques in the diagnosis and management of cholangiocarcinoma
- Utilize enhanced methods of optical diagnosis and endoscopic resection techniques of colonic adenomas in daily practice
- Apply methods to track quality gastroenterology metrics in practice to optimize reimbursement

Hotel Accommodations

ACG returns to the San Diego Convention Center for ACG 2013. All hotels included in ACG's room block will be within walking distance to the San Diego Convention Center, affording you the opportunity to avoid shuttle buses, taxis or rental cars to get to and from the meeting. Across the street from the San Diego Convention Center, visitors will find the Gaslamp Quarter providing you an opportunity to unwind, relax and refuel with dozens of restaurants, shops and more.

San Diego International Airport is just 10 minutes from downtown San Diego. The airport offers direct flights to more than 100 U.S. cities as well as non-stop service to Canada, the UK, Mexico and Japan.

The ACG Annual Scientific Meeting and Postgraduate Course will be held at San Diego Convention Center. The headquarters hotel for ACG 2013 is the Manchester Grand Hyatt. Additional room blocks will be available at other area hotels.

Visit the Registration and Housing page at <http://acgmeetings.gi.org/registration.asp> for more information on accommodations and rates. Please contact ACG's official housing bureau and book online to receive special group rates and amenities.

For more information about this or upcoming ASGE educational courses, please visit www.asge.org, email education@asge.org or call 630-573-0600.

Continuing Medical Education

The American Society for Gastrointestinal Endoscopy (ASGE) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

ASGE designates this live activity for a maximum of 8.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Cancellation Policy

Written notice of cancellation and requests for refunds must be received by the College's office by September 20, 2013. After this day, no refunds will be possible. Registration cancellations are not accepted by telephone. An explanation must be provided in writing. There will be a $50 administrative fee assessed for cancellation of any paid event. Refunds will be issued after the meeting.

Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA)

Attendees at the ACG Annual Scientific Meeting and Postgraduate Course who need additional reasonable accommodations or who have special needs should contact the ACG office no later than September 20, 2013.

This program is designed to recognize and reward endoscopists who are dedicated to their own professional development and furthering their ability to provide the most effective patient care.

Participants in this program will receive discounts on ASGE courses and products, as well as a Certificate of Achievement in Endoscopy Education. For additional information on the criteria and application process, please visit the Training and Education web page at www.asge.org.

Educational Programming through the ASGE Institute for Training and Technology is supported, in part, by the ASGE Foundation. To donate, visit www.asge.org.
