Make This Your Bootcamp for the GI Boards

This is a course targeted for gastroenterologists appearing for the ABIM initial certification or re-certification examination. Passing the GI boards require an in-depth knowledge of gastrointestinal conditions that are commonly seen in practice as well as rare but “classic” clinical vignettes that are tested during board type exams. The boards also tests physicians on their awareness of current guidelines and recent advances in all aspects of gastroenterology and hepatology. To meet these high standards required to pass the boards, we have put together this most intensive review course that brings together outstanding teachers from the Cleveland Clinic and leading institutions nationwide.

Who Should Attend

This course is ideal for physicians preparing for the GI boards (certification or recertification) and practicing physicians seeking a comprehensive review of gastroenterology and hepatology.

Expand Your Knowledge

After attending you'll expand your ability to:

- Summarize the state-of-the-art screening, diagnosis, prevention, and treatment techniques applicable to GI practice;
- Provide an in-depth review and analysis of the most recently published research data on a variety of GI disorders and describe their clinical implications.
