About the Workshop

This advanced dermatopathology workshop will be devoted to the study of 50 unknown microscopic slides using a self-assessment approach of multiple choice and single answer questions. A discussion will follow, which will include the case description, diagnosis, differential considerations, and pertinent comments about each disease. Emphasis will be placed on benign and malignant skin tumors, bullous diseases and inflammatory dermatoses. An interactive computer system will be employed to assist audience participation in the discussion.

NEW: The virtual slide component of the dermatopathology workshop is going to be set up very similar to the traditional workshop. The major difference is the replacement of a microscope with a computer monitor and a mouse. There will be a separate room, a computer lab, for those who participate in this offering (20 people maximum). The cases will be in a list on the screen and you will select the case to open in the virtual slide viewing software. You will select each case sequentially when you hear the bell in place of passing the glass slides in the traditional format. You will select your answer using pen and paper in the same binder that the other workshop participants use. Everybody will then rejoin the main group on the 5th floor for breaks and for the afternoon portion of the workshop.

Directed to Dermatologists, Pathologists, Dermatopathologists, Plastic Surgeons, Oral Pathologists, Interested Physicians and non-physicians.

Learning Objectives

At the completion of this workshop, the attendee will be able to:

- Analyze the broad spectrum of disorders in dermatopathology.
- Recommend an approach to the unknown which will assist in the final diagnosis.
- Cite specific features and differential diagnoses.
- Demonstrate advances and their application to diagnosis.

Faculty Disclosure

The Cleveland Clinic Center for Continuing Education has implemented a policy to comply with the current Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education Standards for Commercial Support requiring resolution of all faculty conflicts of interest. Faculty declaring a relevant commercial interest will be identified in the activity syllabus

Parking

Parking is available in the 100th Street Visitor's Parking Garage for $10 per day. Please enter the Lerner Research Institute via the 3rd Floor Skyway entrance

PRINTED MATERIAL

Each participant will receive a description of 50 cases and a question and answer sheet. The information on each case will cover clinical data, microscopic description of important basic pathological changes, diagnosis, and differential consideration. All participants will receive a copy of the workshop cases and photos via email link.

EVALUATION

The Self-Assessment workshop will be given in a test format with two minutes for evaluation of individual slides. Following the self-assessment, the faculty will discuss each case and the differential diagnosis. An interactive computer system for audience participation will be used as an adjuvant teaching aid.
