SPEAKERS

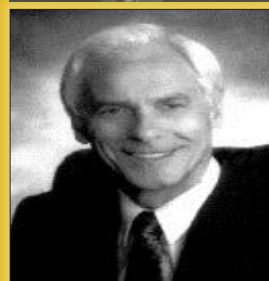

Dr. Bruce Howerton is intimately familiar with the maxillo-mandibular complex. Together with the knowledge that he gained during his education at the UNC Division of Oral and Maxillofacial Radiology, and experience with content delivery authoring software, Dr. Howerton excels at creating images using computer software and cone beam technology.

Dr. Frans Currier is a meticulous researcher on growth and development topics, and controls the 30-year Denver x-ray growth data. He has tested and used multiple generations of I-Cat machines to enhance diagnosis of orthodontic patient.

Dr. Lawrence Kotlow will be presenting a day of "laser dentistry for the Pediatric Dentist" It will cover the use of types of lasers used in treating hard and soft tissue procedures, laser safety , using Photobio-modulating lasers for trauma and other conditions

Dr. Larry Lytle is a low level laser researcher, educator and consultant. His dental degree is from Nebraska, and PhD in Nutrition from the Donsbach University. He has developed a line of low-level "cold" lasers called the Q Laser System

Scott Childress is the Internet marketing expert with years of experience in search engine optimization, local searches, social media and other internet marketing campaigns.
