Philosophy

A majority of children presenting to primary care clinics have a dermatologic complaint, whether primary or secondary. Primary care training programs have traditionally offered little formal dermatology instruction for their residents and the current era of managed care is mandating that a larger proportion of these diseases be managed by the primary care physician and/or nurse practitioner.

This course will focus on practical pediatric dermatology for the primary care provider, with emphasis on correct diagnosis, therapeutic options and clinical pearls. The target audience is pediatricians, family practitioners, dermatologists, nurses/nurse practitioners and residents in these programs.

Lectures this year will cover the recognition, diagnosis and treatment of atopic dermatitis, bacterial skin infections, warts, molluscum, herpes simplex infections, acne vulgaris, periorificial dermatitis, viral exanthems, dermatophyte and candida infections, neonatal skin emergencies, "lumps and bumps," arthropod bite reactions, pediculosis, scabies and "hot topics" in pediatric dermatology. There will be two "Guess the Diagnosis!" lectures, with pediatric dermatology textbooks awarded at the end of the day for the top attendee scorers. The day will conclude with an open "Ask the Pediatric Dermatologist" panel session.

Educational objectives

At the conclusion of the course participants should be able to:

- Identify common and important skin disorders in infants, children and adolescents
- Discuss the appropriate management for some common skin disorders and the underlying bases for their causes
- Describe new therapies for several common skin conditions and when to use them
- Identify when referral to a specialist is appropriate
- Discuss the pathophysiology, diagnosis and treatment of warts, molluscum, herpes and other viral infections, acne vulgaris, periorificial dermatitis, atopic dermatitis, cysts, bacterial skin infections, exanthems, fungal infections, neonatal emergencies, insect bites and parasitic infections
