Great CME Found Here

Why You Should Choose CME Vacations

Our conferences often evoke the sentiment,

'It's Too Good to be True.'

We're accustomed to hearing this reaction, as many attendees are pleasantly surprised by our unique blend of cutting-edge medical content and a fabulous vacation.

The genesis of our company stems from Dr. Steve Burgess's dissatisfaction with the quality and timeliness of available CME offerings. Disheartened by attending a conference where a renowned pneumonia expert failed to address recent guidelines, opting instead to recycle outdated material, Dr. Burgess recognized a need for improvement. Moreover, the full-day lecture schedule left him fogged and unable to absorb information effectively.

Always looking to innovate and improve, Dr. Burgess crafted a program tailored to his own preferences. He based this program on three fundamental tenets:

> Relevant, Up-to-Date Content: Prioritize the latest medical information to ensure attendees receive the most current insights.
> Half-Day Lectures: Condensed, focused sessions to improve comprehension and retention.
> Scenic Locations: Our conferences take place in picturesque settings, allowing attendees to unwind and to network—two factors important in growing and maintaining a career.

Dr. Burgess' dedication to staying abreast of medical advancements is exemplary. He goes above and beyond to incorporate new findings into our lectures. This commitment has earned recognition, with his presentations aligning with the latest official guidelines.

As the business grew, Dr. Burgess enlisted the expertise of his longtime friend Özlem to manage business operations. Together, we strive to create an exceptional CME experience. We value feedback from our clients and continuously refine our offerings based on your suggestions, such as introducing networking events and providing helpful resources like reference sheets.

When you attend our conferences, you'll have the opportunity to meet at least one member of our team, if not more. We eagerly anticipate welcoming you to the CME Vacations family.

-- Steve and Özlem
