FROM BENCH TO BEDSIDE

Translating Evidence to Interprofessional Practice

Evidence-based practice (EBP) has shown to reduce the time in which research takes to reach the bedside. This first-of-its-kind conference at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSK) will include both podium and poster presentations designed to showcase actual examples of integrating evidence-based decision making into daily clinical practice. Presentations will include a summary of the high-quality evidence used to make a recommendation for a change in practice, how the change was implemented and measured.

This conference is designed for healthcare professionals of all disciplines including nurses, advanced practice providers, physicians, pharmacists, dietitians, social work, physical therapists, occupational therapists, respirator therapists or any other licensed clinical practitioner interested in learning more about evidence-based healthcare and how to integrate it into their practice. A virtual option is available if you are unable to join us in-person in New York City.
