

Enhanced Supportive Care in Cancer

Wednesday 18th October 2017

Education Centre (Dept. 17), The Christie, Manchester, M20 4BX

Overview

This event will focus on the new NHS England initiative 'Enhanced Supportive Care' (ESC).

We will discuss how good supportive care provided early in a patient's treatment can improve quality of life in patients with advanced cancer, lengthen their survival and reduce the need for aggressive treatments at the very end of life.

Organiser

Dr Richard Berman FRCP

National Clinical Lead for Enhanced Supportive Care, NHS England and Consultant in Supportive & Palliative Care, The Christie

Introduction

This event will focus on the new NHS England initiative 'Enhanced Supportive Care' (ESC). It will provide guidance on how to deliver ESC successfully and the story behind its implementation.

The initiative encourages care teams to address more fully the needs of cancer patients – in particular, preventing and managing the adverse physical and psychological effects of cancer and its treatment.

Topics Covered

- How to successfully implement ESC in your centre
- Patient experience of ESC
- Supportive care in early phase trials
- Managing symptoms in patients on active anti-cancer treatment
- Cross boundary working
- Rebranding of palliative care

Summary

- To review the rationale and evidence behind enhanced supportive care
- To change practice in delivery of supportive care and management of cancer patients
- To discuss and debate the future of supportive care in cancer care

Intended audience

Clinical nurse specialists, GPs, oncologists, palliative care physicians
