

40th Annual Congress

ENGAGE YOUR CORE

May 30 – June 2, 2020

David L. Lawrence Convention Center
Pittsburgh, PA

TABLE OF CONTENTS

HELLO ORTHOPAEDIC COLLEAGUES!

It is my pleasure to invite you, your peers, and your family to NAON's 40th Annual Congress in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. As the premier educational conference that is specifically dedicated to orthopaedic nursing, we will also be celebrating four decades of orthopaedic excellence, which defines our organization.

During my term, I have empowered our members with this year's theme: Engage Your Core. From pursuing research opportunities to starting local chapters in communities across the U.S., I've been thrilled to see the ways in which this theme has been embraced. At this year's Congress, the NAON community will engage our core, together. This year, you can expect the unparalleled educational programming and networking opportunities to ensure you stay current on evidence-based practices with your bright peers. In addition, we will be highlighting the accomplishments and the impact of our organization with the NAON 40th Birthday Party.

I am excited to bring the NAON community to Pittsburgh, a city of evolution and growth. In fact, the city ties well into this year's theme of Engage Your Core. Throughout American history, Pittsburgh has served as the core industrial hub of coal and steel production, from the Revolutionary War through today. From a riverboat ride to a stroll through the Arts District, come prepared and excited to explore all our amazing host city has to offer.

During both my tenure as President and my 29 years of NAON membership, I have learned that Congress brings together the brightest minds and most passionate nurses. Prepare to arrive with your party hat on, mind open, and passion inspired.

We look forward to seeing you in Pittsburgh!

CONGRESS PURPOSE

The purpose of NAON's Annual Congress is to provide outstanding education and networking opportunities for orthopaedic nurse learners from around the world.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

NAON's Annual Congress provides discussions on basic knowledge and skills for orthopaedic nurses. We emphasize sharing of research, best practices, and evidence-based recommendations. The content is driven largely by practice gaps and associated educational needs identified by past Congress attendees, and in assessing trends in literature and practice.

The Congress Unit of the NAON Education Committee (NEC) strives to present state-of-the-art advances in orthopaedic nursing care. Learners are provided updates in healthcare trends, offered multiple opportunities to network with participants, and are given several occasions to interact with exhibitors and product vendors.

By participating in this conference, attendees will increase their confidence and ability to:

- Discuss current approaches to improving patient care and outcomes
- Share strategic knowledge about current issues facing orthopaedic nursing and the healthcare industry
- Implement improvements to clinical practice and administrative strategies for effective quality care of patients with a variety of musculoskeletal conditions
- Incorporate evidence-based practice into the care of patients and their families
