Why should you attend:

All practices are facing the fact their professional services reimbursements are shrinking from all insurance companies. Patient loads are smaller due to the economy and operating costs are skyrocketing. Everyone needs to look at additional revenue opportunities with their own patient base while they maximize patient clinical outcomes. Practitioners for years have been referring the business to O&P shops, manufacturers or 3rd parties because they have been told and believe it is illegal and not profitable. If done following proper guidelines, regulations with appropriate protocols and processes they can develop a program that greatly benefits their patients and their practices.
