TARGET AUDIENCE

This activity is designed for primary care providers including general internists, family practitioners, physician assistants, nurses and nurse practitioners. Other health care team members working with physicians to provide patient care would also benefit from attending this course.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

This year's conference on Clinical Dermatology will respond to areas of need as identified through past conference evaluations. The program is knowledge and experience-based and designed to update participants on the diagnosis and treatment of a wide variety of common and serious dermatologic conditions.

Primary care providers have a tremendous challenge to initially evaluate all medical problems brought to them by their patients. However, few primary care residency programs provide satisfactory exposure to dermatologic diseases and treatments. This course is designed to assist primary care practitioners in adopting a logical approach to the diagnosis of a wide variety of common and serious dermatologic conditions employing the Lynch algorithm. Beyond this, the emphasis will be upon treatment of diverse skin problems and determination of the appropriate times to refer to a dermatologist. Adequate time and opportunity will be provided for discussion of cases and for questions, particularly during breakfast sessions and panel discussions.

EDUCATIONAL METHODS

- Lectures with Q and A will be used to facilitate the dissemination of up-to-date information.
- Case studies and discussion will highlight conditions commonly seen in clinical practice.
- Interactive roundtable discussions are included to facilitate a more in-depth understanding of clinical issues.
- Panel discussion will be used to provide an opportunity for experts to answer questions.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

At the end of the activity, participants should be able to:

- Accurately describe skin lesions
- Use an algorithmic approach to dermatologic diagnosis
- Recognize serious dermatologic diseases, such as bullous diseases, drug eruptions, and exanthems to determine the initial approach or referral strategy
- Confidently diagnose and treat common skin diseases such as acne, rosacea, psoriasis, eczematous diseases, aphthous ulcers, cutaneous ulcers, and pigmentary conditions
- Recognize benign and malignant skin tumors and know the best modes of treatment
- Recognize when and how to perform skin biopsies and simple procedures

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION

Please register early – space is limited.

Tuition is $535 for physicians and $431 for all others. Confirmation of registration will be sent within two weeks after receipt of registration form. The fees will increase after August 11, 2017.

Tuition includes continental breakfasts, refreshment breaks, light lunches, electronic syllabus, and an online certificate of attendance. Tuition may be paid by check, American Express, Discover, MasterCard or VISA. Cash is not accepted. The Office of Continuing Medical Education reserves the right to cancel this conference. In such a case, a full refund of tuition will be given.

Registration forms received without payment will not be processed until payment is received, and payment must follow within 10 days. Early discount rates are honored if payment is received by the date noted on the registration form. After that date, the late fee is applied.

Cancellation and Refund Policy:

A refund of tuition, less $75 administrative fee, will be allowed if requested in writing by September 7, 2017. No refunds will be provided after this date.

ELECTRONIC EVALUATION AND CREDIT

The link to your electronic syllabus, evaluation and certificate of credit will be available for 30 days after the last day of the conference. Once you have completed the online evaluation your certificate will be available to print. After 30 days this link will expire and these items are no longer available online. You must contact the Office of CME to receive your certificate. A $15 administrative fee will be applied.
