► We are excited to travel to the Mile High City! The American Association of Women Dentists (AAWD) is

AAWD has a new management firm this year and is working in conjunction with other women's organizations including the Society for Women's Health Research.

Dr. Karyl Patten, president-elect, has worked with the Council on ADA

Sessions and our new management firm, International Association Management, to provide us with two quality CE speakers.

Dr. Laura Braswell will keep us engaged in an interactive session about oral diseases. Come and get in on the action! We will then have an awards luncheon and installation of officers for 2017 along with a few hand-picked exhibitors who cater to women in dentistry and their unique needs. The afternoon will feature Dr. Melissa Rathburn who will update us on the latest in orthodontics for our patients. We will finish in time for all of us to attend the Distinguished Speaker Series and hear another hero for women, the youngest recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize, Malala Yousafzai.

AAWD is your organization to receive mentoring, leadership training, advocacy and friendship. We exist to provide you that extra spark needed to juggle work, family and friends. Please consider joining us in Denver this fall to add that spark to your life!
